State GOP Group Adopts Policy With Little Friction

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO—Republicans have less trouble reaching agreement on policy stands than do Democrats, it appeared after the Republican State Central Committee meeting in Sacramento this weekend.

Only one dispute arose on the floor as the committee passed 31 resolutions. It involved the wording of a resolution which called for "an increase in the national minimum wage" and the "inclusion of farm workers" under it.

All shades of opinion from complete rejection of a national minimum wage to blanket inclusion of nearly everyone were expressed.

The 475-member group finally agreed on the resolution as originally presented, but only after almost referring it back to committee "for further study."

The GOP unit also took stands on:

THE GOVERNOR: Gov. Edmund G. Brown has a "soft attitude toward the criminal element"; has disregarded the needs of employers and produced a bad business climate; has proposed a "shadow plan" for government reorganization; has used State Consumer Counsel Helen Nelson as a "political tool."

CRIME: "The lack of a responsible program" by the Brown administration was denounced and the GOP supported stronger penalties for narcotics violators.

COMMUNISM: The GOP offered to distribute to college groups authentic films dealing with communism and urged Republican groups to show such films.

AGRICULTURE: The GOP endorsed the right of farm workers to organize but preferred federal, rather than state, legislation in the field. The Republicans endorsed renewal of the Bracero program.

LABOR: The party supported collective bargaining and the right of union members to full participation in Union affairs.

RED CHINA: The GOP commended President John F. Kennedy's statement that the United States would not surrender to the Chinese Reds as a price for relaxing tensions and urged a reappraisal of Red China policies by local Democratic organizations.

NEGROES: The GOP approved formation of a committee to organize a public relations program aimed at Negro voters, noting that there will be one million such voters by the next general election.

DISCRIMINATION: Opposed federal aid to any project in which there is racial or religious discrimination.

VOTING: Urged Congress to investigate "vote frauds" and opposed bills in the legislature, sponsored by Democrats, to prohibit challenging a voter's literacy at the polls.

Auto Crashes Embankment; Driver Jailed

Charges of felony drunk driving and resisting arrest were filed against Wilfred S. Corda, 27, grocery clerk of 117 Woodland Avenue, San Rafael, last night after he rammed his sports car into the highway embankment opposite Bermuda Palms motel on Francisco Boulevard.

His passenger, Laurence Giambastiani, 27, salesman of 1902 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Fairfax, was in satisfactory condition at San Rafael General Hospital today after suffering severe scalp cuts when his head went through the windshield. The California Highway Patrol on surgeon's request took a fragment of flesh from the car to the hospital for skin grafting.

San Rafael policeman James Carlton told Corda not to move his car, in an area under jurisdiction of the California Highway Patrol. In the midst of argument with Carlton, who was off duty, Officer L. A. deLisle Jr. arrived and supported Carlton's order.

As deLisle tried to get the car keys, Corda backed the vehicle suddenly, spraining deLisle's right hand when it was struck by a door, the officer reported. Three efforts had to be made to handcuff Corda before they were successful, police said.

Highway Patrolmen James Dukes and John Courter then arrived and had some difficulty in persuading Corda to enter an ambulance.

Corda was treated at San Rafael General Hospital for a cut eyebrow and released to police, who put him in the county jail from which he was later released after posting bond of $1,050.

Governor Of Iowa Pays Visit Here

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Gov. Norman Erbe of Iowa, fresh from a night in Marin County, warned a Republican banquet in Sacramento Saturday night that a threat "is already being made" by the Kennedy administration against "freedom of public expression in our governmental processes."

The Republican governor, brother of Mrs. E. H. Bergman of Mill Valley, came to Marin Friday night with his wife, Jackie, and stayed at the Bergman home.

He went to Sacramento on Saturday and flew back to Iowa that night.

Governor Erbe cited President John F. Kennedy's order to the secretary of defense to "refrain from discussing disappearance" of the missile gap as an illustration of what he meant. He warned of "Madison Avenue tactics" employed by the administration and declared "the personal agrandizement of any one individual or political machine must never be allowed to take priority over the right of the people to know the facts."

Addressing 1,200 Republicans dining in the El Dorado Hotel as a part of the State Central Committee meeting, he lashed out at what he called the "political juggling act that the Democrats will try to undertake in order to avoid the responsibility" of being majority party.

He urged Republicans to watch the performance of the Democrats and compare it with their promises, particularly in the fields of civil rights, retired senior citizens, inflation and leadership.

He also deplored voting alleged irregularities last November and challenged the administration to conduct a real study and introduce constructive legislation to eliminate vote fraud.

First District GOP Forms New Group

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Republicans of the First Congressional District, which includes Marin County, set up a new organization over the weekend designed to coordinate all GOP activities in the seven coastal counties.

At the same time the group passed a strongly worded statement deploring the activities of Rep. Clement W. Miller of Corte Madera for exerting "extreme pressures upon members of the California legislature to drop his home county of Marin from the district."

The new organization, called the First Congressional District Congressional Committee, was set up at a caucus of about 50 persons attending the Republican State Central Committee meeting.

Fred G. Dupuis of Tiburon was elected chairman pro tem and was instructed to call a meeting in the next few weeks at which a permanent organization would be set up, permanent officer and an executive committee elected. As invisioned by the group, the new committee would be composed of members of the seven county central committees, members of all GOP volunteer organizations chartered by the central committees, state legislators, both incumbents and candidates, and members and associate members of the state central committee living in these counties.

Purpose of the large membership, according to David Winslow, chairman of the Marin County Republican Central Committee, is to "assure all interested segments of the Republican Party an opportunity of expression" and to assure coordinated action throughout the district.

The unanimous blast at Miller was for his reported activities aimed at the reapportioning Marin County into a new congressional district with a portion of San Francisco.

"In reply to direct inquiry from responsible newspapers in the district, Mr. Miller has pretended ignorance and refused to declare himself on the issue," the statement said. "Marin County is an integral part of the economic and political structure of the Redwood Empire. Mr. Miller's effort to destroy this traditional relationship for his own political benefit displays a total lack of concern for the overall best interests of more than 500,000 people."

Airman Accused Of Knife Attack

A 2c Rodolfo (Rudy) Canut, 23, of 328 G Street, San Rafael, was charged with assault with a deadly weapon by Novato police after a fight Saturday night.

Franklin B. Teixeira (also known as Pimentel), 24, employed on the Pinheiro Ranch near Novato, told police Canut came at him with a knife or baonet while Teixeira was in his car.

Police found a three-and-one-half-inch slit in the top of Teixeira's convertible. They could find no knife or bayonet.

Canut also was charged with disturbing the peace. He was released later Saturday on $500 bail.

NEW HEART MASSAGE TECHNIQUE — Dr. Robert F. Schell demonstrates newly developed—and highly successful—technique of closed-chest heart massage while Dr. Richard S. Hahn, co-instructor, is in readiness to supplement massage with mouth-to-mouth resuscitation. Demonstration was at Marin General Hospital for nurses and hospital orderlies. MARINITES LEARNING EMERGENCY PROCEDURE

Hands Save Heart In New Technique

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

More than 200 Marin doctors, nurses, firemen and ambulance drivers are learning a new way to save lives—with no tools but their two hands.

They are enrolled for laboratory instruction in a new method of restoring the heart beat when it has been stopped or broken into irregular spasms. It is a method any adult can use, after proper instruction. In clinical use, it has proved completely effective in seven cases out of 10. It is called closed-chest cardiac massage.

Instruction is being given in a program sponsored jointly by the Marin County Heart Assn., Marin General Hospital and Marin County Medical Society. Instructors are Drs. Richard S. Hahn and Robert F. Schell.

In 1959, the Marin County Medical Society, with the same co-sponsors, made professional history by conducting the first demonstrations in this area of restoring the heartbeat by massaging the heart with the hand, through an opening in the chest. Dogs were used for the demonstrations, as they are for the present series.

The open-chest massage, while effective, is of course possible only for the surgeon. And the patient needs first to be taken to a hospital, or to some place that can be converted into an emergency operating room.

The new closed-chest massage is within the realm of first aid. No medical degree is necessary to apply it. It can save lives when neither hospital nor doctor is at hand.

Declares the Journal of the American Medical Assn. in presenting a paper on the subject by three Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine doctors:

"Immediate resuscitative measures can now be initiated to give not only mouth-to-mouth artificial resperation but also adequate cardiac massage without thoracotomy . . . Anyone, anywhere, can now initiate cardiac resuscitative procedures. All that is needed are two hands."

That is why nurses, firemen and ambulance drivers are being given the instruction (as they were given a Marin County Medical Society course in mouth-to-mouth breathing).

The method is simple: The patient is placed face upward (preferably with the head tilted slightly backward) on some firm support—which may be anything from an operating table to level ground. The heel of one hand of the operator is placed directly on the tip of the sternum (breast bone). The other hand is placed atop and at right angles to the first.

The operator then bears down and releases rythically, at 60 to 80 strokes per minute. At the end of each pressure stroke the hands are lifted slightly to allow full expansion of the chest.

The downward stroke constricts the heart within the bony walls of the chest and the strong fiber of the pericardium. The heart is forced to "beat." The rythm of the massage approximates the regular heart beat.

Although this massage also compresses the lungs somewhat, it will not move enough air to give the patient oxygen. So mouth-to-mouth breathing should accompany the massage.

If two persons besides the stricken one are present, one may give mouth-to-mouth resuscitation while the other continues the constant massage. But one person may interrupt the massage long enough to give three or four rapid mouth-to-mouth artificial respirations to each minute of massage.

There is, noted Dr. Hahn and Dr. Schell, some danger of fracturing a rib by too heavy pressure. But, as they remarked, a broken rib is a low price to pay for life. And when closed-heart massage is called for, it is strictly to save a life.

If, from injury or other shock, the heart stops breathing or fibrillates—breaks into irregular spasms which produce no blood pressure—the closed heart massage should be started immediately. Three or four minutes delay may mean death or serious brain injury from lack of blood circulation.

If the heart has stopped, the message in many cases will restore its natural beat within a few minutes—although there are cases where message has been continued for nearly two hours.

If the heart fibrillates, the massage alone will not start it beating by itself again. An electric shock, applied with a defibrillator, is the surgeon's method for that. But the massage will often keep the heart functioning, artificially under the pressure of the operator's hands, until a hospital can be reached and the electric shock applied.

Cardiac collapse, often from unfathomable cause, is the bugaboo of the surgery. That is why more than a score of doctors were on hand Saturday morning, and a similar number the preceding Saturday, at the Marin General Hospital Annex to watch and try the new technique.

The victim of accident or drowning may "die" of shock and still be within the power of a person's two hands to restore to normal life. That is why two-score nurses watched and tried the technique Saturday afternoon, and why firemen and ambulance drivers will attend it next Saturday.

California Facing Driest Summer In Three Decades

Marin Water Official Shares Fear Voiced In State Forecast

The odds are 25-1 that California will have the worst summer water shortage in 30 years—and this includes the North Marin Water District, says manager Jerome B. Gilbert.

The prediction on the state situation comes from Water Resources Director William E. Warne. Gilbert agrees with him.

"We have discussed the situation with local people who have lived here a long time. This is one of the driest years in the last 50," he said.

This dry year follows two drier than normal years, making the situation "indeed critical," Gilbert said.

In the Marin Municipal Water District, senior engineer George Ames said water supplies are now lower than they have been in the last three years at this time.

He said more rain this month or in April could change the picture. "It's difficult to say what might be the situation two months from now," he said. The district is "somewhat concerned" right now, he added.

Gilbert noted that the North Marin District's pipeline to the Russian River will be completed in December, too late to help the summer situation.

"We are doing everything we can, including some piping from Novato Creek back into

Boy Shoots Up School In B-B Gun Rampage

An 11-year-old boy shot 44 holes in windows and a door of San Rafael's West End School yesterday with B-B shot.

A B-B shooter, probably in an automobile, punctured a large display window of Scripture Oldsmobile Co. on Francisco Boulevard.

Car windows were punctured by shots in Alto and San Rafael, and the window of a home was damaged by a B-B shot in San Rafael.

Blitzkrieger of the weekend attack on windows was a sixth grade pupil at West End School, who was held in the county juvenile hall today after he admitted breaking into the San Rafael Toy Shop, stealing three B-B guns, then peppering the school with shot he stole at Payless Drug Store.

Police Officer Carl Selby said the boy, who is from a broken home and lives with his grandfather, would give no reason for his acts. He at first denied all knowledge of the B-B shoot-

Marin Slayer On Trial For Coors Murder

COMBINED AP & UPI

GOLDEN, Colo.—Joseph Corbett Jr., escaped Marin County slayer, went on trial today on a charge that he murdered wealthy brewer Adolph Coors III in a kidnap-for-ransom scheme that failed.

In 1950 Corbett was found guilty of second degree murder in Marin County and sent to San Quentin Prison in the death of Sgt. Allen L. Read of Hamilton Air Force base.

Read's body, shot twice in the back, was found dumped from a car in Larkspur. Corbett was transferred to th California minimum security facility at Chino from which he escaped in 1955.

Corbett has refused to discuss the Coors case since his arrest in a Vancouver, B.C., hotel Sept. 29.

Minutes after Dist. Judge Christian D. Stoner called the court into session today, Corbett's attorneys moved that their client be allowed to post bail and freed from jail pending outcome of the trial.

Judge Stoner denied the motion and promptly began calling a roll of some 250 prospective jurors who filled not only Stoner's small courtroom, but also two others on the same floor of the Jefferson County courthouse.

Questioning of prospective jurors took up the entire morning and by noon, when Judge Stoner called a recess, the prosecution had question 17. Of these, four were dismissed by

San Francisco Port Tieup Comes To End

Teamsters Return To Work After Four-Day Walkout

Teamsters went back to work after picketing the docks since Thursday on the grounds some of their cargo handling work was threatened by a new automation contract the shippers signed with longshoremen.

Harold Lopez, secretary of Teamster Local 85, said a 12-hour session with the shippers ended in agreement to allow the teamsters to go on handling cargo on the docks just as they have in the past.

A similar agreement ended a four-day tieup of the Los Angeles-Long Beach harbor Saturday but there the parties set July 1 as the date for a changeover to a new way of loading.

"We made no such agreement here," Lopez said.

"Come July 1 and the stevedores try to get our jobs, the same situation will prevail as last Thursday."

Longshoremen had refused to cross picket lines set up by Local 85 in behalf of 7,000 teamster members.

Hearing Set On Pt. Reyes Park Measure

A House subcommittee will hold a hearing next week on Rep. Clement W. Miller's bill to establish a 53,000-acre Point Reyes National Seashore Area in western Marin County.

Miller's office informed the Independent-Journal today that the hearing will be held March 24, by the National Parks Subcommittee of the House Interior Committee, presided over by Chairman J. T. Rutherford (D-Texas).

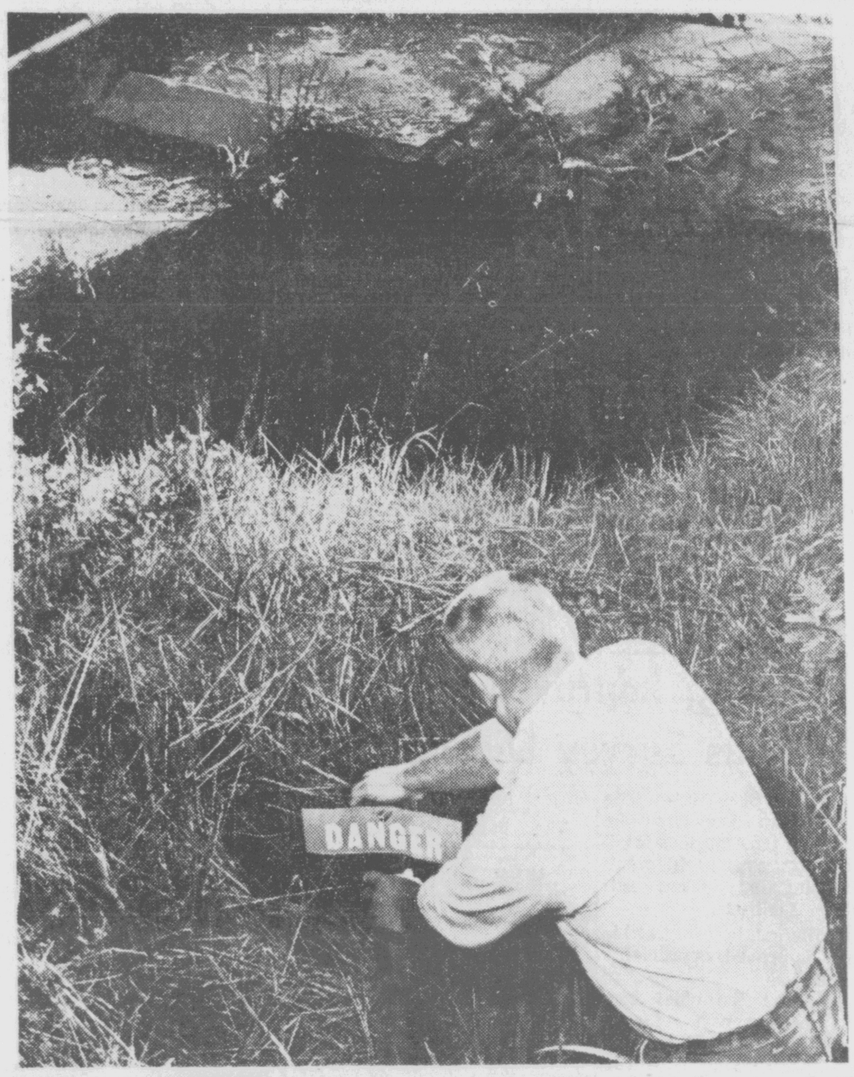

The bill, HR 2775, would establish the seashore area in practically all of the Point Reyes Peninsula except the Bolinas area and an area of Inverness Park. It would provide that about two-thirds of the existing ranches would continue to operate either under a sale-lease back or some other arrangement.

Miller said that an identical bill in the Senate, SB47 by California Sens. Clair Engle and Thomas H. Kuchel, is expected to be heard the following week by the Senate Interior committee.

Kennedy Proposes U.S., Latin-America Alliance

Spells Out 10-Point Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — President John F. Kennedy called on Latin-American nations today to join with the United States in an alliance for progress featuring a 10-year plan "to transform the 1960s into an historic decade of democratic progress."

In an historic statement at the White House to representatives of Latin-American nations, the president set forth a 10-point program designed to deal with what he called the challenges and dangers of this era.

Kennedy's audience did not, however, include any officials from Cuba and the Dominican Republic.

The president proposed this program:

1. A vast new 10-year plan for the Americas—"A plan to transform the 1960s into an historic decade of democratic progress."

2. A ministerial meeting of the Inter-American Economic and Social Council to begin "the mass of planning effort which will be at the heart of the alliance for progress."

3. Kennedy said he had just signed a request to Congress

New 'Crater' Appears In Old NWP Tunnel

L. R. Peacock was working on his driveway on Laurel Avenue, Woodacre, yesterday afternoon when he became alarmed by a "large noise, the sound of tree limbs breaking and vibrations from the earth."

He investigated to discover a new "crater" in the land over old Northwestern Pacific Railroad tunnel.

A 20-foot cypress tree, once standing on the spot, had disappeared down the hole, leaving only some stripped branches on the ground above. The hole was approximately 10 feet in diameter.

The tunnel, once used by trains from San Rafael to Point Reyes, and later fire trucks for the county fire department, has been closed off for about four years since a cave-in occurred inside.

At least three cave-ins have followed, two on the inside and one about three years ago from the top on Peacock's property.

The new hole is on county land. If the county had not moved an old house from the property, part of it would have fallen down the hole, said Peacock.

Chester P. Lilly of Elm Avenue, Woodacre, said that at about 4 p.m. his wife heard a noise and asked him: "What's that? What's that? Do you hear what I hear?" They met Peacock and he told them to come and see the "crater." Both neighbors had heard the snapping of branches as the tree fell into the hole.

Sullivan Cancels Debate With Paar

NEW YORK (AP)—Ed Sullivan said today his scheduled debate with Jack Paar is off because "Paar simply has welched" on the format for the affair.

He said Paar had backed out of a plan that called only for debate—an exchange of arguments and rebuttals on their differences about pay scales for entertainers—and now insists that this be followed by a general discussion. (Earlier story on page 2).

Bad Bill Would Give Tenure To All Teachers

A school bill which in effect would give tenure to every working school teacher in Marin County and elsewhere, and to every teacher as soon as he is hired, is quietly slipping through the legislature in Sacramento.

The bill, AB 337 by Edward E. Elliott (D-Los Angeles), already has passed the State Assembly and has moved to the Senate's Education Committee.

One reason there has been no great outcry is that the wording of the bill itself seems to be innocuous. It requires that, as in school districts having average daily attendance of more than 85,000 students, probationary teachers can be dismissed for cause only in districts under 85,000. Cause is definitely defined in the Education Code and must be proven.

In a huge school district with 85,000 students, it might work to give everyone tenure. If they didn't work out in one job, they might work out in another.

But in a small district, even one as large as Tamalpais High School District, the largest in Marin County, an out-of-step teacher can cause all kinds of problems. In a real small district, automatic tenure could be a catastrophy.

No school board should have to be so infalible as to be required to keep teachers just because they hired them. Good teachers sometimes don't fit into a particular school situation. Bad teachers are often able to convince a superintendent they are good, then are careful not to make the mistakes which would make them eligible for dismissal for cause.

Practically any employer needs a probationary period while he discovers if a new employee will fit into his organization. The schools deserve to keep this same right.

Besides, it would be bad for the teachers themselves. A good staff could be saddled with a bad apple if the probationary period were to be, for all intents and purposes, eliminated.

If there were a surplus of teachers and school districts were developing patterns of dismissal just before tenure, there might be some excuse for this legislation.

As it is now, it is a bad bill and should be defeated.

Wild Birds And Tame Birds

The other morning we happened to be awake at an early hour and heard a rooster crowing in the distance. This simple fact started a train of thought and wonder about the large number of birds man has managed to domesticate.

In Marin alone, we have a wide variety of barnyard fowl, pet birds and tamed wild birds. Some wild birds, like the blue jays, practically beg to become family pets and put in regular appearances at feeding time.

The borderline between tame and wild birds is thinner than most of us generally realize. A seagull can be tamer than a swan. Birds have distinctive temperaments and the domesticated are not always the sweetest.

GEESE MAKE GOOD WEEDERS

In California, for instance, farmers employ as many as 200,000 geese a year to rid their fields of weeds.

In Canada one farmer alone uses 50 of the birds on a 55-acre strawberry patch. The geese have a knack of eating the weeds as they appear and of leaving the strawberry plants alone during their first year before the berries appear.

Would that it were as simple to root out the weeds continually cropping up in the life of the individual, community, nation and world.

It is a never-ending battle to persevere despite intrusions that stifle one's full spiritual development.

One effective way to achieve and maintain the maturity of soul that God wishes you to enjoy is to fill your garden of life with so many good plants that there will be no room for weeds of any sort.

"The cares of the world and the deceitfulness of riches, and the lusts after other things entering in choke the word." (Mark 4:19)

Let me sow so many seeds of love and truth, O Lord, that I may never be bothered by the weeds of evil.

It's The Little Things In Life That Get You Down—Like Work

By FRANCIS STILLEY
(For Hal Boyle)

There are plenty of them. To wit:

Penny chewing gum machines that gum up.

Whom Does I-J Represent?

EDITOR,

Regarding your editorial of Thursday, Feb. 23, subject: A.B. 289, does the I-J represent

5.—The I-J? (Does the I-J publish a Sunday edition?)

Praise For Sausalito Police

Independent-Journal:

I have sent the following letter:

Police Chief Howard Goerndt,
Sausalito:

All too often we take the service performed by you and your men for granted. Seemingly, the only public voice raised is in squawks over traffic tickets or, perhaps, jokes that are not always in the best taste.

But you and the men of your department must be commended in the highest order.

Shooting near my residence Saturday evening resulted in my wife becoming greatly frightened. You and your men were on the job immediately and Officer Cooper greatly helped to calm her over the telephone.

Further, your visit Monday to reassure her as well was a fine—completely unexpected and uncalled for—gesture.

It is most reassuring to know we have men of this caliber protecting the residents of Sausalito.

Thank you for an outstanding job.

Might Check Inside Books Too

Independent-Journal:

Some of us, recently, were more than gently joggled out of a lethargic state which exists surrounding our educational system; specifically regarding the wastage involved in the burning of text books. Surely better planning and management was called for, being my own reaction to this hitherto unknown situation.

However, thrifty persons though all of us may be, we might agree to wholesale disposal of more books given the opportunity to read some of the seventh grade level social studies books which it has been my disagreeable experience to peruse. And conclude, too, that these books are a disgrace to a community with such widespread high-level academic training and background.

The books I read were not well written, had inadequate content, with coherence and clarity lacking. Nor did they contain up-to-date information regarding world affairs. Perhaps the answer to the problem will be a more pliable system whereby we will not be so concerned about the beauty of the book as such, but more interested in what it contains and how it is written. Paper-backs of a sort, might be the answer to our dilemma.

To expect our children to make good at high school and college level with elementary grounding such as this does not add up. English is the most commonly required remedial course in our state colleges today.

Perhaps we will prevent more expense in later years when these seventh graders are attending college and can participate immediately in English 1A and 1B courses—we'll save time for the students, money from needless salaries. These standards are the least we owe our children; yours and mine.

Not Terrified To Discuss Red China

Independent-Journal:

I was amused by Milen Dempster's letter to the I-J of March 3 in which he declared that because of the baleful effects of actions of the House Committee on Un-American Activities people are too terrified to discuss the possibility of admitting Red China to membership in the United Nations.

Three years ago when my son was a senior at Drake High School he was subjected in three different classes to such a barrage of propaganda for Red China's admission to the U.N. that it took a bit of doing on my part to convince him that valid arguments actually existed in behalf of the U.S. position against such action: the foolishness of substituting a U.S. enemy for a U.S. friend in the Security Council, for one, and the adverse effect on the morale of anti-Communist governments in Asia, for another.

That these points—and the fact that the U.S. Congress had annually adopted near-unanimous resolutions against Red China's admission—were not allowed to intrude on the objectivity of the school discussions seems a little difficult to explain on the basis of the prevailing McCarthyism of the times.

Mr. Dempster's almost total divorcement from reality on the subject of what can and what can't be said about Red China is typical, it seems to me, of the state of mind of those engaged in the present hysterical campaign to discredit the work of the House Committee on Un-American Activities in general and the documentary film of the San Francisco riot against the committee in particular.

As the recent anti-U.S. demonstrations in a dozen cities of the world protesting the death of Patrice Lumumba revealed once more, the Communists have achieved remarkable mastery of the technique of promoting riots at the push of a button. The San Francisco riot was of that category was made abundantly clear in the F.B.I. report on the incident.

It's only human nature, of course, that people who unwittingly or dimwittedly lent support to the demonstration are distressed to have it labelled as Communist-directed. But rather than spend so much time trying to avoid admitting their mistake, and so much effort in windmill-tilting at imagined threats to civil liberties, wouldn't it be more mature to devote their considerable talents to the real problem—the steady erosion of human freedom everywhere under the pressure of continuing Communist conquest all over the globe?

When the chips are down, everyone must conform. And it's surprising how easy it is to call a dog a dog, a pig a pig and a doll a doll. Viz:

POLITICS: In Marin City's election to select a new name for the community or keep the old one, results were: Manzanita, 62; Marin City, 18, and Klansville, 1.

The election was declared void and another is to be held.

ANIMAL HUSBANDRY: Napoleon, the lonely duck who braved the weasel to save his mother at the home of the Joe Wittenmeiers in Mill Valley and survived with a scruffy neck, has turned out to be Napoleanna.

Ed Giesecke says that no sooner had Naples moved to the weasel-less corporation yard than he laid five eggs. Alors.

INTERNATIONAL: Danish-born, Cigarillo-smoking Mrs. K. W. Pedersen, 61, red bandana around her head, red flowers in her hand, walking swiftly through town as is her bent, was asked how many cigarillos she puts out a day.

"About 30," she said.

"What do they do for you?"

"They give me spirit," she said.

SOCIAL ITEM: Rex, part boxer and part Norwegian elkhound, celebrated his 14th anniversay with dachshund friend Inky, 7, and firehouse dog, Peaches, 7. The party took place at fireman Slue Cardwell's. Cake, angel food, ice cream, chocolate.

Rex was born, one of 10 in the firehouse engine room. It was his 12th formal party.

OWL STORY: When Mill Valley's Manny Gomez, always good for an original quotable quote, made his fiery plea before the City Council that the councilmen approve a 15,000 square foot zoning classification so that he might get nearer to building on his hillside lots, he allowed:

"I'm stuck in the mud . . . Why, I'm for quail and I always get an owl. When two birds split, one is a quail and one is an owl. I always land with an owl on my end, the one with the big eyes."

Manny, whose nephew J. Robert Gomez is planning a development next to his, was asked by Councilman Joseph E. Sheeks: "Is there any particular significance as to why you are wearing your jeweler's eye glass tonight, Mr. Gomez?"

PLUMBING: Allen K. Kennett who makes his home on the S.S. Maggie tied up near Gate 5 Road in Marinship, ran into problems last week when he applied for a use permit to build a bathroom facility in his garage on shore.

Kennett, who is married and has three youngsters, has facilities on his boat, but told the commissioners he has need of an extra facility.

The commissioners told Kennett they would ask City Atty. John B. Ehlen for an opinion as to whether or not this came under the jurisdiction of the commission and, if so, if the use permit is applicable.

Senate Rides Judicial Pork-Barrel In Approving Too Many Judges

WASHINGTON—An appropriation of $100,000 a year in perpetuity is required every time Congress adds a judge to the U.S. courts.

When Congress, after neglecting the courts for years, suddenly starts adding a trainload of new judges—more than requested by the courts themselves, more than recommended by Presidents Eisenhower and Kennedy, more than proposed by the attorney general—this is not only a waste of the taxpayers' money, it is an action which has "judicial pork-barrel" all over it.

While the Senate Judiciary Committee was rushing through this bill pushing up the number of judges, the committee was so light-heartedly generous to senatorial colleagues, that a member couldn't safely put up his hand to scratch his head without being voted a judge for his state.

THE COMMITTEE made it 69 and for the good measure the Senate, tossing in a few more, pushed the number to 73 and now is only waiting for the House to give a quick yes—or add some of its own before the public realizes what's going on.

There is a powerful case to be made against this precipitate scrambling for judicial spoils:

1—The Senate has authorized 33 more judges than recommended by President Eisenhower and 14 more than recommended by President Kennedy. The Senate has acted without its Judicial Committee taking a single syllable of testimony on the need for pushing the number up.

2—The SPONSORS of this crass judicial "numbers game" seem guiltily eager to get the whole business out of the way with the fat number of judges fixed beyond recall—before March 13 when the Judicial Conference, headed by Chief Justice Earl Warren, will review the needs of the courts.

But, since the Senate Judiciary Committee did not want to hear any witnesses who might question its bloated judgeship bill, they obviously don't want any of the facts and judgments of the Judicial Conference report. Hence the rush for quick passage before the facts get to the public.

3—Respected and outspoken judges agree that the judicial council ought to undertake some long-delayed court reforms before Congress covers up the need for these reforms.

In the February issue of the "American Bar Association Journal," Chief Judge J. Edward Lumbard, of the Court of Appeals of the Second District, shows how the judicial councils can go a long way toward clearing the courts of egregious over-congestion. He suggests that, if they fail to do so, Congress put on some heat.

LIKE JUDGE Warren Burger of the District Court of Appeals, Judge Lumbard frankly says that too many judges are simply not doing their work, and asks: "If . . . judges fail to take assignments to which they have agreed and instead plan to spend several months on vacation, why shoudn't the council take action to prevent such dereliction of duty?"

Well, why not? And if the judicial councils fail to act, why doesn't Congress do something before padding the judiciary?

Congolese Agree To Government By Confederation

TANANARIVE, Malagasy Republic (AP)—Anti-Communist political leaders of the Congo have agreed to replace their centrally controlled parliamentary government by a confederation of semi-independent states headed by Joseph Kasavubu.

The action of the political conference, which ended yesterday, raised hopes in Leopoldville that the way had been opened to an eventual end to the chaos and warfare that has plagued the Central African territory since it won independence from Belgium last summer.

The conference's final communique made no mention of pro-Communist Antoine Gizenga, whose forces control the eastern provinces of Oriental and Kivu. He was the only major leader absent from the talks. Kasavubu told newsmen that if Gizenga refuses to go along with the conference decision, he will be declared an outlaw. Presumably military measures then would be taken to supplant him.

Kasavubu, who has been the central government president in Leopoldville and the only Congolese authority recognized by the U.N., messaged U.N. headquarters in New York to ask for recognition of the new setup and continued economic assistance. He said partial union has been achieved and the danger of civil war averted

His cable to Frederick H. Boland, assembly president, and Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold repeated the conference's earlier demand for cancellation of the Security Council resolution of Feb. 21, which authorized U.N. troops in the Congo to use force if necessary to prevent civil war.

Kasavubu announced a delegation led by Katanga Province officials would go to New York to tell the General Assembly about the conference decisions.

Moise Tshombe, president of Katanga Province and the man who dominated the week-long talks, declared: "We have settled our affairs among ourselves and now it is necessary that both the East and the West leave us in peace."

The conference agreed on a two-level central coordinating regime to replace Kasavubu's central government in Leopoldville. Leopoldville is to become a federal district like Washington, D.C.

The higher organization will be a council of state, in which Kasavubu and the heads of the Congo states will set general foreign and domestic policy. A coordinating council will serve as an executive body to carry out the council of state's decisions.

The conference also ratified the month-old military pact in which Kasavubu, Tshombe and Albert Kalonji of South Kasai agreed to a united front against "communism in the Congo."

The name of the new confederation and the number and boundaries of the states will be discussed at another meeting in Bakwanga, capital of South Kasai Province, in about two weeks.

State Slump Parley Notes Jobless Rise

SACRAMENTO (AP)—A sharp rise in unemployment was reported today to a statewide conference called by Gov. Edmund G. Brown to discuss possible steps to combat the recession.

Irving Perluss, state director of employment, disclosed a 10 per cent spurt in the jobless total after holding at a fairly stable level during January and February. He said he couldn't explain it.

Perluss, the governor's anti-recession coordinator, said, however, seasonal factors can be expected to cause some reduction in the unemployment rolls within a month or so.

About 100 representatives of business, labor, community welfare and local government were invited to the conference on unemployment, which now tops the half million mark in California.

Carl Zachrisson, newly appointed Economic Development Agency commissioner, told the group the state's business climate is good and its economy is developing a broader, more healthy base.

Brown said in a prepared speech "The trouble is that we are currently attracting new residents at a faster rate than our economy is growing. We welcome these new people. But we have to find jobs for them.

"We are compelled to recognize that unemployment is increasing and is penetrating more and more key industries. The rate of increase in total employment is shrinkly monthly.

"These facts, harsh as they are, give little hope that the situation will mend itself spontaneously in the near future."

British Open Spy Trial; 5 Plead Innocent

LONDON (AP)—An American couple and three others charged with stealing naval secrets and passing them on to the Soviets pleaded innocent today at the opening of Britain's biggest spy trial since atom spy Klaus Fuchs was convicted a decade ago.

Gordon A. Lonsdale, 37, company director holding a Canadian passport but believed by the government to be a Russian.

Peter John Kroger, 50, bookseller, and his wife, Helen, 47, who the U. S. Federal Bureau of Investigation says are Morris Cohen and his wife, Lola, American citizens and former residents of New York City.

Harry Frederick Houghton, 55, and his fancee, Ethel Elizabeth Gee, 46, both British civil servants.

The government claims they stole secrets from the British navy's underwater weapon base at Portland—where Miss Gee worked—and passed them to Moscow over a high-speed radio transmitter hidden in the Krogers' home.

SOME DARK SPOTS

Housing Improved In '50s, Census Survey Discloses

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Census Bureau reports that one out of every six American families lived last year in dilapidated housing or lacked full plumbing facilities.

Nevertheless, housing in this country improved appreciably in the 1950s.

These were the chief conclusions of a report released yesterday on the 1960 housing census, taken along with the population count last spring.

The bureau found that 83 per cent—or five out of six—of all occupied non-dilapidated houses and apartments containing full plumbing facilities. In 1950 the ratio was 64 per cent or just under two-thirds.

The bureau defined full plumbing as private bath, toilet and running hot water.

It said census takers counted 58,323,000 dwelling units in the United States. Of these, 46,914,000, or 80 per cent, were in "sound condition, 8,384,000 were "deteriorating" and 3,025,000 were "dilapidated."

In 1950, when only two categories were used, 46,137,000 houses and apartments were rated as "not dilapiated" and 4,535,000 as "dilapidated."

Press Unit Hits Castro

ACAPULCO, Mexico (UPI) — board of directors of the Inter-American Press Assn. ended its semi-annual meeting yesterday with a condemnation of Fidel Castro as the main enemy of freedom of the press in the western Hemisphere.

The three-day meeting was dominated by discussions on the precarious state of freedom of the press in parts of the Americas — particularly in Cuba. Suppression of the free press also was attacked in Haiti, Nicaragua, Bolivia, Paraguay and the Dominican Republic.

A resolution adopted by the board went beyond the situation of the press in Cuba. It said Castro had betrayed the hopes of the entire continent by making his government the spearhead of communism in Latin America and endangering continental security.

Snakes In Collision

SLATON, Tex. (UPI) — Five persons were killed and one passenger injured critically last night when two cars collided while one of them was carrying 50 live rattlesnakes.

State police said the snakes were loaded in four sacks and a can in the car trunk and remained captive in the accident. Three state policemen beat the snakes to death with sticks. The snakes were believed captured in the annual Sweetwater, Tex., rattlesnake hunt.

Removal of the tube yesterday at the London Clinic was a sign of further progress in the movie star's recovery. Her critical illness had made necessary an oxygen-pumping electronic lung machine, a blood transfusion and intravenous feeding, now ended.

"Miss Taylor is now going along very nicely," said a spokesman at the exclusive hospital.

Longer Driver Licenses

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Robert T. McCarthy, state motor vehicle director, says all driving licenses should be issued for five-year terms.

The law requiring shorter short term licenses for drivers with accident or traffic violation records is foolish, a waste of public funds, and fails to promote traffic safety, McCarthy said yesterday.

Sub-Summit Interest

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Karl Mundt (R-S.D.) gladly reports that former President Dwight D. Eisenhower isn't mad at him. Mundt says he has a "Dear Karl" letter from Eisenhower to prove it.

Mundt created some fuss two weeks ago when he reported in a newsletter to constituents that Eisenhower was critical of the way President John F. Kennedy's administration was going.

Twisters Rake Midwest; One Dies, 57 Hurt

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

A turbulent storm raked the Midwest with damaging winds and heavy rains today after spawning more than a score of tornadoes which smashed paths of destruction through Missouri and Arkansas.

One woman was killed and at least 57 persons were injured yesterday as swirling winds crumpled homes, toppled radio towers and blew automobiles off highways.

Property damage was extensive in the two-state area.

LINES DOWN

Repairmen struggled to restore communications disrupted by downed lines. Felled trees barricaded roads. Heavy rains, flash floods and hail impeded rescuers.

A tornado swirled out of the darkness near West Plains, Mo., and shattered the little frame Friendship Baptist Church in which 30 persons were attending Sunday evening services. Frances Huddleston, 42, was killed. Her husband, Dr. J. A. Huddleston, 43, was seriously injured while 10 other churchgoers suffered lesser hurts.

EARLIER DAMAGE

Six persons were injured near Tipton Ford, about seven miles south of Joplin, Mo., where a twister destroyed at least two homes, damaged several others and hurled a pickup truck against a tree.

Three of four radio towers of station KWTO were blown down by a tornado that struck about three miles south of Springfield, Mo. Several farm buildings also were damaged.

OTHER TWISTERS

Other twisters were sighted near Branson, Monett and Nevada, Mo., and several automobiles were blown off Highway 71.

Considerable damage was reported in the tornado-struck Arkansas community of Busch, near the Missouri border, where at least 14 persons were injured

At least two tornadoes were sighter in the Clarkville, Ark., area. One struck the nearby community of Woodland, injuring at least 12 persons.

Parr, Sullivan Debate Tonight

NEW YORK (AP)—Television's Ed Sullivan and Jack Paar engage in a debate tonight over the fees they pay entertainers.

Referee, or moderator, for the face-to-face debate on Paar's regular NBC show will be humorist-publisher Bennett Cerf, well-known for his glib remarks on CBS-TV's "What's My Line?"

The word battle—scheduled to start at 11:30 p.m. EST—brings to a peak the wrangle which began last week when Sullivan complained that Paar pays entertainers who appear on both shows far less than he does.

Sullivan picked Cerf as moderator on privilege granted by Paar. Sullivan previously suggested Hugh Downs, Paar's announcer, but NBC turned thumbs down on the ground that Downs wouldn't be considered neutral.

Downs will open the program. The debate will begin 15 minutes later and, if completed prior to the show's regular closing time, Paar and Sullivan will leave the program together and Downs will continue the show along its regular format.

Space Struggle Series Subject

The second in a series of lectures on "The Coming Struggle Over Space" will be presented tonight at 8 o'clock at the Marin Jewish Community Center, 1618 Mission Avenue, San Rafael.

Samuel A. Schaaf, chairman of the University of California department of mechanical engineering, will discuss "The Technical Breakthrough Into Space." Schaaf is a consultant to the Office of Naval Research.

Congress Ups Pace; 3 Major Bills Pending

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Congress stepped up its legislative pace today and leaders hoped to complete action this week on at least three or four major bills.

The House Rules Committee scheduled a session on three measures expected to clear the House by next weekend. They were bills to restore five-star geenral's rank to former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, to authorize military construction projects and to deal with regulation of food additives.

AID MEASURE

The Senate, which passed the Eisenhower bill last week, was ready to debate a 395-million-dollar measure to aid economically depressed areas. A final vote appeared unlikely before tomorrow night or Wednesday, however.

Democratic leader Mike Mansfield announced that the Senate would follow the depressed areas bill with action on the treaty to ratify U. S. membership in the 20-nation Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development.

Mansfield said he hoped the Senate also would act this week on the Columbia River basin, and possibly begin debate on President John F. Kennedy's proposal to extend unemployment compensation payments.

COMPLETES ACTION

Efforts also were being made by a House-Senate conference committee to work out a compromise on Kennedy's emergency feed grain program.

Senate committees were still at work on three of Kennedy's main measures—federal aid to education, increased minimum wage, and unemployment compensation.

Another of the president's nominations was embroiled in controversy and snarled in the Senate Interior Committee. The committee held two hearings last week and scheduled another Wednesday on the nomination of Ralph Paiewonsky to be governor of the Virgin Islands.

A PLACE FOR THE HANDICAPPED — Building trades union members are contributing their work to ready house at 629 Mission Avenue, San Rafael, for an office and activity building for the Marin Society for Crippled Children and Adults. Marin Asked To Aid Handicapped Center

Marin Society for Crippled Children and Adults Inc. issued a special appeal for help today in reconstructing an old frame house in San Rafael as the future "home" of more than 4,000 adults and children served each year by the society.

The society bought the former Charles Walsh estate at 629 Mission Avenue for about $15,000. Mrs. Charles H. Brown of San Anselmo, recording secretary of the society, announced that reconstruction is planned for completion in about two months.

The two-story frame building will be stuccoed on the outside, and the basement replaced with concrete.

George Scott, president of the Marin County Building Trades Council, has offered the services of union men, Mrs. Brown announced. "We are appealing for donations —anything like lumber, materials, paint, labor that would be of use in the reconstruction," she said.

Recreation director Mrs. Alfred Cherry of Sleepy Hollow has developed a program of social life, ceramics, weaving and other types of amusements for adults. About 30 adults are participating now.

The society, headed by president Frank J. Keaton, also gives direct service to about 4,000 physically handicapped persons each year. Aid is in the form of money, orthopedic, speech therapy and similar assistance.

Ralph Murphy and Sons is in charge of the building reconstruction. M. J. Cordone of San Anselmo is chairman of the society's building fund.

The appeal for help to build the center is made in conjunction with the Easter Seal drive.

"We need money badly to complete the center, and every bit will help," said Mrs. Brown. "This will be the first time that the society will have a center to carry out its year-round program for rehabilitation and recreation of the handicapped."

The office of the Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Inc. is now located at 1036 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Kentfield. The adult program is held at 1011 E Street, San Rafael.

Hub Council To Discuss Freeway Plan

The San Anselmo City Council will discuss the proposed state freeway route through the Hub City at tomorrow night's regular meeting, which begins at 8 o'clock in the city hall.

Councilmen want public reaction on where the proposed freeway should pass. Three routes are under consideration. One is from San Rafael via the Miracle Mile. The second is from Greenbrae via Sir Francis Drake Boulevard. The third, through Lucas Valley, would bypass San Anselmo completely.

A representative from the State Division of Highways has been invited to the meeting to give information on the state's freeway plan.

Bids will be opened for the improvement of San Anselmo Avenue.

Other items on the city council agenda include these:

A report on the financial feasibility of developing the downtown area, tree planting program, curtains for the council chambers, design of downtown street lights, and a request for certain employee benefits for the 1961-62 fiscal year.

A letter of resignation will be received from Lee Busolo, member of the planning commission. Service citations will be presented to Mrs. Mary Donnelly, who quit as chairman of the planning commission, and Police Officer James Farmer, who retired.

PATROL WARNS ON USE OF 1-WAY STREET

Although Manuel Freitas Parkway was posted for one-way traffic by the California Highway Patrol last Wednesday, many Terra Lindans sturdily persist in using it two-way at great jeopardy to themselves and others, Capt. T. F. Parnow of the patrol's Marin office said today.

"Marin County has already had more than enough head-on collisions this year so far," said Parnow. "Please ask these people to catch on to the new one-way system." The road where the trouble is reported is north of the ditch which is dividing line between Terra Linda and San Rafael. It should now be used only for westbound traffic. Anybody eastbound to Highway 101 should use the road south of the ditch in San Rafael territory.

Girl's Speech Wins Contest

Representing the San Rafael Lions Club, she defeated winners from West Marin, San Geronimo and Novato clubs.

Suzanne as a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lyons of Morrison Road, Ross. She will compete in the regional contest March 23 at Corte Madera Recreation Center against winners from three other Marin County zones.

Boulder Halts Car Rolling Down Grade

A young San Anselmo woman escaped with minor injuries when a big boulder checked her compact car after it ran off the Waldo Grade early today.

With only one month's driving experience and a new automobile, Mary Louise Coleman, 24, of 59 Grove Lane, was southbound at 6:20 a.m. to work in a San Francisco bank.

She had just passed Rodeo Avenue on Highway 101 when her car got too close to the road edge, she later told California Highway Patrolman Charles Butterworth. This led to a series of over-corrections finally putting her car over the guard rail, which the vehicle straddled for 24 feet before starting over the bank.

The car went down 20 feet and was stopped by ramming a boulder which kept it from going over the edge of a cliff.

Novato Planners Hear Trailer Report Tonight

A discussion of possible trailer court zoning and development standards for courts is on the agenda tonight for the Novato Planning Commission.

Commissioners will meet at 8 p.m. at city hall to consider a report from planning adviser Bill D. Dobbs on trailers. Also on the agenda is a request for architectural supervision from Andrew B. Talbot of San Francisco for construction of a third story on a building at Fifth and Grant Streets.

Man Jailed After Row With Wife, Father

Arrested was James C. Francis, 26, of 115 West Street, San Rafael.

San Anselmo police who made the arrest, said Francis drove up to Hank's Wilshire Station, which is owned by his father, Henry Francis of 48 Bothin Road, Fairfax, and in which he is employed.

He demanded that his wife, Evelyn, who was at the station with his father, give him some money. She gave him $40 but he asked for more.

When she refused, he became angry and began striking her, police said. She fled to the service station office with her husband in pursuit. His father then hit Francis with a tire-iron to halt the beating.

The younger Francis, staggered by the blow, threatened his father's life, jumped into his car and drove off, said Police Sgt. James Orr, who arrested the younger Francis in his car on the Miracle Mile about two hours later.

Francis was booked in the county jail on charges of assault and battery and disturbing the peace after he was treated in San Rafael General Hospital for bruises on head and legs. His wife required no medical attention.

Francis, freed later on $315 bail, is scheduled for arraignment in Municipal Court Wednesday at 1:30 p.m.

NEW TRANSLATION

Scriptures In Modern English Make Debut

LONDON (AP)—A New Testament in modern English, 13 years in the writing, went on sale today.

Known as the New English Bible: New Testament, it strips away the language of the King James and earlier English versions. It is the first revision in Britain since 1881.

And for the first time in British history, all the major churches in Britain, except for the Roman Catholic, joined in the revision.

'CLEAR, NATURAL'

Pro. Charles Dodd, director of the project, says the original Greek and Hebrew have been translated into "English which is as clear and natural as the subject matter will allow."

Here is a comparison:

Authorized version of the Lord's Prayer:

"Our Father, which are in heaven, hallowed be Thy name.

"Thy kingdom come, thy will be done in earth, as it is heaven.

"Give us this day our daily bread,

"And forgive us our debts, as we forgive our debtors.

"And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil: for Thine is the kingdom, and the glory, for ever, Amen."

NEW VERSION

New English Bible:

"Our Father in heaven,
"Thy name be hallowed;
"Thy kingdom come,
"Thy will be done,
"On earth as in heaven.
"Give us today our daily bread.
"Forgive us the wrong we have done,
"As we have forgiven those who have wronged us.
"And do not bring us to the test,
"But save us from the evil one."

The revision was suggested in 1946 by the General Assembly of the Church of Scotland. It said the church's work was hindered by the archaic language of the Bible.

A joint committee was formed in 1947 to direct the new translation. All the responsibilities of publication were entrusted jointly to the University presses of Oxford and Cambridge, which bear the whole cost and own the copy-right.

The joint committee is composed of representatives of the Church of England, the Church of Scotland, the Methodist Church, the Congregational Union, the Baptist Union, the Presbyterian Church of England, the Church in Wales, the Church of Ireland, and the Society of Friends (Quakers) Also represented are the British and Foreign Bible Society and the National Bible Society of Scotland.

The text in the New English Bible runs on as in a normal book, with the verse divisions as used in the authorized version confined to such examples as the Lord's Prayer and the Beatitudes. For purposes of reference, the old verce numbers are placed on the margin.

A separate American edition will go on sale tomorrow. It is identical in text to the British edition.

Johansson weighed 206½. It also was Johansson's top weight. The New Yorker weighed 182 to Johansson's 196 for their first fight in New York, June 26, 1959, when the Swede knocked out Patterson.

In their return bout at New York last June 20, Patterson weighed 190, his heaviest to that date, when he knocked out Ingemar, who then weighed 194¾.

Patterson matches his speed and power against Johansson's dynamic right in a third title fight that figures to be as quick and explosive as their first two thrillers.

The New Yorker, heavier and broader around the shoulders than for the first two fights, is an overwhelming, 4-1 choice to make it two straight over the dimple-chinned Swede.

Practically no one expects this bout to go the distance in Convention Hall. The betting is even money that it won't go beyond six rounds and 6-1 it won't go the full 15. Very little betting is reported.

The pick by the writer is Patterson within five rounds. The writer, like most of those who covered the first two scraps, is 0 for 2, on the two upsets. It may be a good sign for Ingo. Patterson, 26, was a 5-1 favorite the first time and Johansson, 28, a 3-2 choice the next time around. Both fights were in New York.

With interest picking up last day momentum, Bill Fugazy, president of the promoting Features Sports, Inc., believes the fight will draw some 12,000 fans to the 17,000-seat arena for a gate of $550,000. Closed circuit TV officials estimate up to a million fans can see the fight in theaters, arenas and on community antenna systems.

The champion was dethroned on a seven knockdown, third round technical knockout in his first fight with Johansson on June 26, 1959.

But victory came to Patterson only after he had survived a stunning right hand blow high on the forehead that dazed him for seconds. Ingo's fatal error was in not following up the opening.

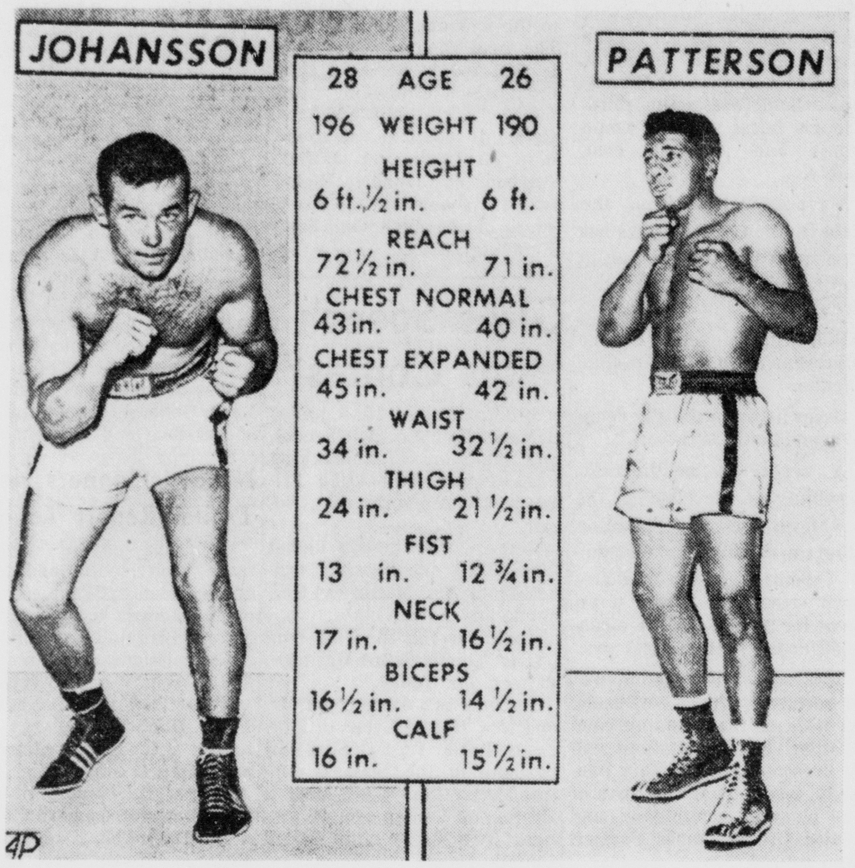

This third bout simply boils down to this: Can Johansson connect early with his fast, lethal right? If he doesn't it's almost a cinch he will be mowed down by the machine-gun bursts of the finely trained champion.

The big money for the fighters will come from the closed circuit telecasts, the movies and domestic (ABC) and foreign radio broadcasts. Theater TV is expected to bring in $3 million and could do $3½ million. Each fighter seems assured of at least $750,000 without counting the gate.

The gate should bring each about $100,000.

With JOHN J. CONNOLLY

Success Of Alou At Third Base Could Unlock Pennant For Giants

CONNOLLY

PHOENIX—The player who can unlock the pennant flavor for the Giants is Felipe Alou, power hitting outfielder, who will be alternating between third base and rightfield.

Al Dark, the new Giant manager, did not say it in so many words, but he outlined his thinking during a penthouse interview with this scribe the other night.

"I believe Alou can give a respectable performance at third base," said the Giant boss.

"And when I say that, I'm in no way indicating I have given up or diminished by opinion of the worth of Jimmy Davenport. I'm just juggling my players around to find out where they fit into my jig saw puzzle.

"BUT NO one knows, for sure, how his ulcers are going to behave. Neither do we want to guess or say he has completely recovered from a knee injury. Time alone will answer those questions.

"So Alou, a solid power hitter with a strong and accurate throwing arm and speed to burn, just MIGHT develop into a corking third sacker and give our infield greater offensive strength."

For the next 20 exhibition games Alou will be in and out of lineup at third base.

Dark implies if Alou should make the grade he can still use Davenport and Jose Pagan as alternate shortstops.

Davenport played the greater part of his minor league career at shortstop. From the time he broke in with El Dorado through Dallas, Minneapolis and finally San Francisco, Jimmy shifted back and forth at short and third base.

BUT TO the casual observer the chances of Alou making the regular third base job opens a new vista of hope for the Giants. It could mean McCovey, even if he flops, could easily be replaced either by Orlando Cepeda, Harvey Kuenn or even Jim Marshall, for a spell.

Another cheerful possibility, should Alou deliver, is the sturdy outfield combination of Willie Mays, Cepeda and Kuenn would be "set." A regular outfield trio playing regularly, means a lot to a manager and gives him more time to concentrate on infield and pitching problems.

The outlook for Alou at third base is the finest "move" yet made by the new Giant manager, who is slowly but surely blooming as a real baseball strategist. He seems able to analyze his men and their worth to the club.

MY GUESS, in view of the latest development on Alou at third base, would be that in the season opener against the Pirates on April 11, you'll probably find Alou at third, Davenport at shortstop, Don Blasingame at second base, McCovey at first and Mays, Cepeda and Kuenn in the outfield, with Bob Schmidt behind the plate.

I know from huddles with Manager Dark that he really is dedicated to determining once and for all time whether it is possible to make Willie McCovey a fixture in the Giant infield.

"From now until the season opens," Dark explains, "McCovey has a guardian angel—Coach Whitey Lockman, himself once a great first baseman.

"I AM NOT inclined to go along with some of the writers who say McCovey isn't a good infielder. From what I've seen he hasn't many flaws, at least not enough to tab him a poor infielder.

"But as I say I'm turning McCovey over to Whitey and it is his job from now on to wise up Willie."

McCovey, if he doesn't have to get a traffic cop to direct his feet, might learn to shift 'em okay. And if Whitey can do that he will be a howling success as a teacher and might just prove to the National League managers that he is a long ways from being an exile in the sport he played so long.

Canadiens Snare World Ice Hockey Championships

The Canadiens took the world title on a better goal average than Czechoslovakia at the end of the 11-day championship yesterday after each team finished with 13 points. The American team finished sixth, defeating Finland 5-2 in the final game.

The match that wrapped it up for the Canadians was a 5-1 victory over Russian in the final match.

Fo rthe Americans, the championship was a fight to stay away from bottom place in group one. Finally they made it by defeating Finland. That assured them of a spot in the top group in next year's championship in Colorado Springs.

Russia ended up third, Sweden fourth, East Germany fifth, the United States sixth, Finland seventh and West Germany eighth.

Boccabella Paces Santa Clara Win

Sophomore John Boccabella of San Anselmo, third baseman for the University of Santa Clara varsity, collected three hits in three-at-bats and scored three runs yesterday as the Broncos blasted St. Mary's, 19-7.

One of Boccabella's hits was a double. He also drove in two runs in the Broncos' 20-hit attack.

Stuckey opened a parachute designed to stop the speeding car and he was pulled from the flaming vehicle. He was treated at Redwood City Hospital for burns on the arms, legs and torso.

Ex-Fighter Bobby Scanlon Picks Patterson In Seven

(Irish Bobby Scanlon, former ranking lightweight fighter, now living in Fairfax, contributes the following article on tonight's world heavyweight championship fight).

By BOBBY SCANLON

The prize of all fistiana is of course the heavyweight championship of the world. Tonight, almost 400 pounds of fighting humanity will climb through the ropes, and try to crucify one another for this honor.

The principals: Ingemar Johansson, challenger, Floyd Patterson, champion. This is the rubber match and probably the last between these two boxers. Johansson will try to regain his title, but he has a tough, tough task ahead of him.

Floyd Patterson is a very proud person and would hate to give up his title, which has given him the riches he now has and will have. He is a hungry fighter, and remembers too easily the days when he didn't know where his next meal was coming from.

He remembers how his manager, Cus d'Amato, tried and tried to get him matches in New York or anywhere, but nobody would fight him. Patterson was too good a fighter and managers of other boxers stayed clear of him. He fought all the tough boxers, fighters nobody else would box. Floyd beat everyone except ex-light-heavyweight champion Joey Maxim. Maxim, the master boxer stayed 10 rounds, rather ran 10 rounds and won the decision. Most newspaper boxing writers gave the decision to Patterson.

I was in New York at the time boxing four-rounders at St. Nicholas Arena, the famous boxing landmark. I went to the fight and afterwards visited Patterson's dressing room. Floyd was feeling very low, of course. His first loss and it was heartbreaking. D'Amato was fuming, screaming about the decision. Floyd consoled Cus by saying, "Hell, Cus, you can't beat the city hall. One day I'll win the heavyweight championship for you."

He did, and contrary to what you read, Floyd and d'Amato have a warm relationship toward each other. D'Amato schooled Floyd from a skinny 16-year-old to what he is now. Patterson has a wife and three children, plus the fact that he takes care of his mother and the rest of his family. So Johansson had better be in shape.

Ingemar Johansson; let's not forget him. He has been a big boost to boxing. He has the big punch, which could nullify all of Patterson's natural ability. One big punch, that's all it takes, with these big guys. But I am betting he doesn't land it. I am picking Patterson, the hungry fighter, by a knockout inside of seven rounds.

If Johansson loses, maybe he has one consolation. Some movie producer might cast him opposite Marilyn Monroe in a love story.

Tars Wind Up Fourth In State Tournament

College of Marin picked up another trophy for its glittering showcase Saturday night after finishing fourth in the California Junior College Basketball Championships.

The Tars' great victory over heavily-favored Bakersfield Thursday night was solely responsible for the trophy because they then lost to defending champion San Jose in the semi-finals Friday night and were trounced by Los Angeles City College in Saturday night's battle for third place at Santa Maria.

The lightning fast LACC quint repeatedly stole the ball en route to a 94-64 victory over the fatigued Tars.

Marin jumped off to a 4-0 lead, but LACC soon caught up and the two teams engaged in a close duel for the first 15 minutes. Then the victors caught fire and pulled away to a 47-26 halftime lead and from there it was strictly no contest.

Dale Aman, who was named to the second team All-Tournament squad, led the Tar scoring with 23, followed by Lynn Livie 18, John Blomquist 11, Ernie Bray 4, Ron Blum, Mike Rawitser, Mike Gaffney and E. C. Barnes with 2 each.

The Tars' tournament performances impressed Santa Maria officials who invited Coache Cal Riemcke and his 1961-62 team to the annual Holiday Festival Tournament there next December. "If we can scrape up enough money," Riemcke said today, "we'll go."

The Tars arrived home by bus yesterday at 4:30 p.m.

Losses Don't Worry Dark; Davenport Hot

By JACK STEVENSON

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—San Francisco manager Alvin Dark declares it's too early to be worried about any lack of attack by his Giants.

They fell 9-1 and 9-2 before the Cleveland Indians in the opening two games of the Cactus League exhibition season over the weekend.

"I think our hitters are a little bit behind," the new skipper commented after the second loss. "But I'm not concerned about it. We're working to be ready for the start of the season."

Dark found bright spots in yesterday's game, singling out the third base play of Jimmy Davenport and the curve ball pitching of Jack Sanford, who previously has relied almost completely on his fireball.

"Davenport looked great, didn't he?" said Dark. "He definitely couldn't have made plays like that last year. His leg seems very good."

In the opening inning, Jimmy ranged to his left to grab hard hit grounders by Johnny Temple and Jim Piersall and threw out both runners.

KNEE FINE

He says the knee, operated on between the 1959 and 1960 seasons, feels stronger this spring.

Of Sanford, the manager said, "It's the first time I've seen him throw curves that well. His fast ball always is good."

Dark sail he plans to sprinkle rookies into his lineup for this week's exhibition games, explaining, "I've got to learn something about them. I don't worry about Willie Mays and Orlando Cepeda. I've got to look at these other boys."

Mays failed to hit in the two Cleveland games and Cepeda collected just one single.

Rookie Dick Dietz and outfielder Felipe Alou saved the Giants from a shutout in the ninth yesterday when the former slammed a pinch hit triple and Felipe crashed a 310-foot home run over the right field fence.

The Giants had only eight off Barry Latman, Bob Allen and Wynn Hawkins, the latter throwing the home run ball.

Willie Kirkland, traded by San Francisco to Cleveland last winter, knocked in five runs during the weekend—two in the opener at Tucson with a single and three here yesterday with a sacrifice fly and a single.

TRAINING CAMPS

Series Standouts Star For Pirates

By U. P. INTERNATIONAL

Dick Groat and Don Hoak, inspirational leaders of the Pittsburgh Pirates who were limited to words during the off-season, are using their bats during the spring training session to answer those critics who thought the best team lost the 1960 World Series.

The Pirates, picking up where they left off with the world championship over the New York Yankees, are still winning in the Grapefruit Circuit while the Yanks are losing.

With Groat, the National League's most valuable player last season, and fiery third baseman Hoak supplying the punch the Pirates won their third straight exhibition game yesterday, defeating the Baltimore Orioles, 6-2. Meanwhile, the St. Louis Cardinals defeated the Yankees, 4-2, for their second victory in a row over the American League champions.

Hoak hit a home run and Groat smashed a double, each knocking in two runs in the Pirates' four-run eighth inning off the Orioles' rookie Johnny Papa. Hoak broke a 2-2 tie in the eighth with his blast following a walk to Roberto Clemente. Hal Smith's single and a double by Roman Mejias set the stage for Groat's double which provided the insurance runs. Groat and Hoak had three hits apiece for the day.

TOUGH PITCHING

Pittsburgh, however, could not do much off the servings of Jerry Walker and Gordon Jones during the first six frames, getting no runs and four hits, but started rolling once Papa, one of Paul Richards' young hopefuls, took the mound.

Tom Cheney, Jim Umbricht and Joe Gibbon limited the Orioles to five hits with Gibbon, showing he's recovered from the shellacking he received in the World Series from the Yanks, hurling three scoreless innings.

With slugger Mickey Mantle forced to the sidelines with a recurrence of his trick right knee injury, the Yankees combed four Cardinal hurlers for 10 hits but pushed across only two runs, both batted in by perennial infield candidate Fritzie Brickell. It was Brickell, however, who started the Cards off to their four-run third inning. St. Louis bunched five hits with errors by Brickell and Cletis Boyer to gain all their runs off pitcher Whitey Ford.

AARON HOMERS

Hank Aaron and rookie Mack (the knife) Jones drove in five runs with home runs to lead the Milwaukee Braves to a 10-4 triumph over the Philadelphia Phillies. The Phils got all their runs off the Braves' star veteran hurlers, Warren Spahn and Lew Burdette.

Don Larsen, looking like he's turned over a new leaf, pitched three scoreless innings for the Kansas City Athletics as they downed the Los Angeles Dodgers, 6-3. The A's jumped on Roger Craig for four runs and added the others on solo smashes by Norm Siebern and Haywood Sullivan.

In the Cactus League, Frank Malzone cracked a three-run homer and singled in another run to pace the Boston Red Sox to a 7-3 success over the Chicago Cubs.

Baseball's new additions — The Los Angeles Angels and the Washington Senators—had reasons for joy, scoring decisive victories even though they were over "B" teams.

Bob Johnson got five straight hits, including a home run, and Jim King and Dutch Dotterer hit homers as the Senators downed the Kansas City "B" team, 12-4. Rookie Joe McClain hurled three perfect innings to receive credit for the win.

The Angels ripped the Chicago Cubs "B" squad, 12-5, with Bob Cerv smashing a home run to pace the L. A. 10-hit attack. Ted Bowsfield and Aubrey Gatewood turned in fine mound chores for the Angels.

Tommy Bolt Wins At Pensacola; Gary Player 2nd

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP)—Tommy Bolt is Pensacola Open Golf champion after one of the steadiest bear-down performances of his sometimes tempestuous career.

The Crystal River, Fla., veteran was only a stroke ahead yesterday at the start of the 72-hole tourney's last 18 holes. But he knocked in seven birdies for his best round—a 5-under-par 67—and finished with a 13-under-par 275, good for $2,800.

Gary Player of Johannesburg, South Africa turned in the day's best round, 65, and finished second two strokes behind Bolt for $1,900. He now tops professional golf money winners at $19,904. Dow Finsterwald of Tequesta had a 279 good for $1,400 and third place despite taking a triple bogey on one hole in his 70 round.

U.S. Citizens Helped Secure Fliers' Release

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House said today 25 American private citizens who were in Moscow last November urged release of the two RB-47 U. S. fliers as "a healthy first step" toward improving Soviet-American relations.

President John F. Kennedy's press secretary, Pierre Salinger, told a news conference, in response to questions, that the group of 25 included two men who now are aides to Kennedy. They are Dr. Jerome B. Wiesner, special assist for science and technology; and Dr. Walt W. Rostow, deputy assistant for national security.

Salinger said Wiesner and Rostow were in Moscow in November—shortly after Kennedy's election—with 23 other Americans to attend a scientific conference there.

Salinger said the entire group of Americans was in Moscow as private citizens. He added it is his understanding that Soviet officials asked the Americans how relations could be improved.

"My information is," Salinger added, "that all 25 indicated that release of the fliers would be a healthy first step."

$750 Million Suit Against G.E. Rejected

Judge Frederick O. Mercer upheld a dismissal by G.E.'s attorney, Timothy Swain, asserting that the complaint was insufficient and asking for a summary judgment.

The suit was filed Feb. 9 by J. Orion Brunk and Mrs. Mary Brown, both of Peoria. They asked triple damages on behalf of themselves and 50 million other G.E. retail customers. They cited G.E.'s admission in another case that some G.E. officials had joined other firms in practices tending toward price fixing and large contracts.

Judge Mercer held that the individual complainants, Brunk and Mrs. Brown, showed no transactions involving interstate commerce—a requirement for jurisdiction in federal court.

He also held that Brunk and Mrs. Brown could not assure adequate legal representation for 50 million unnamed customers of G.E. cited as class plaintiffs in the suit.

ing, but confessed after being confronted with two witnesses from among 10 other boys who were playing baseball in the school yard when he staged his raid.

The boy, related Selby, said he broke into the toy store at 1225 Fourth Street, at 10:30 a.m. by knocking the lock off a rear door. He took three B-B guns. Then, realizing he had no ammunition, he returned and stole five packs of B-B shot.

Even that much shot, the boy decided, was not enough. About 11 a.m., according to his admission, he stole five more packs of B-Bs in Payless Drug Store at 866 Fourth Street.

Then he went to the West End School at 1815 Fifth Avenue, where he opened fire on the school house. The shots put more than a dozen holes in the glass of a rear door of the school house and others in virtually all the rear windows.

Two of the stolen B-B guns were found on the bank of the creek that runs past the school. The boy told police he had hidden the third at Albert Field, but it could not be found.

A six-by-12-foot display window of Scripture Oldsmobile at 740 Francisco Boulevard, San Rafael, was broken Saturday night, apparently by a B-B shot fired from a passing car, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Ten minutes earlier, the highway patrol said, a window in the sedan of Sarah Stamps of 1032 Third Street, Novato, was hit by a shot while the car was parked at Sabella's Restaurant in Alto.

Mrs. Marie P. Rivers reported that a window of her apartment at 1120 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael was broken Saturday afternoon. Police said apparently the shot was fired from a pellet gun.

Also Saturday afternoon, Jean I. Ford of 104 Lochinvar Road, San Rafael, reported gunshot damage to a window of her station wagon while it was parked at 411 Fourth Street.

San Rafael police confiscated a .22 caliber rifle from a 14-year-old boy Saturday after he was reported firing it in the vicinity of Robert Dollar Drive.

Sahara Oil Camp Raided, 11 Kidnaped

MADRID (UPI)—The Spanish government said tonight that an unidentified band of raiders attacked an American-Spanish oil camp in the Spanish Sahara yesterday and kidnaped a group of technicians, including a number of Americans. The kidnaped men were taken into Moroccan territory.

"An attack was carried out by an unidentified band which crossed yesterday into the Spanish Sahara from Morocco against an oil camp," a spokesman for the Foreign Ministry told UPI.

"The camp is eight miles south of the Morocco border. After looting the camp, the band took 11 unarmed technicians into Moroccan territory."

The spokesman confirmed that "several Americans" were among those kidnapped. He added that the Spanish government had no further details on the attack at the moment.

CORBETT

the court for various reasons.

The 32-year-old defendant watched intently as each panel member was questioned and frequently held whispered consultations with his two court-appointed attorneys. But he showed no outward sign of nervousness.

Asst. Dist. Atty. F. Richard Hite, who was scheduled to handle much of the prosecution, submitted a list of about 220 persons he expects to call as witnesses during the trial, including several members of the slain man's immediate family.

Corbett was pallid but outwardly unmoved as he took his seat at the defense table. He was neatly dressed in a brown suit and white shirt.

Dist. Atty. Ronald Hardesty said he will not seek the death penalty.

Corbett has not confessed, nor has he responded to any questioning. His only comment has been: "I stand mute."

But a 500-page Federal Bureau of Investigation report of its investigation into the case has woven a tight web of circumstantial evidence around Corbett.

A ransom note was sent to the family, but it was never followed up. Coors' remains were found seven months later in rugged country near Sedalia, Colo., south of Denver.

The FBI said it learned that a man answering Corbett's description purchased the typewriter on which the note was written.

Corbett was charged with murder Sept. 26, 1960, and captured three days later in Vancouver.

Lessons In Bridge Start Tomorrow

A series of intermediate bridge lessons will begin tomorrow at 8 p.m. at the Marin Jewish Community Center in San Rafael, instructed by Mrs. Harriet Rethers.

Court Delays Rapist's Plea

A request from rapist Edward S. Wein, who escaped the gas chamber through the governor's commutation, to have kidnaping charges against him dropped so he can be eligible for parole, was continued to next Monday in Marin County Superior Court today.

The state is to show cause why Wein's petition for a writ of habeas corpus should not be granted.

Wein was convicted on six charges of kidnaping and robbery.

Thief Takes $2,500 Mink

Dr. Vireno called San Rafael police about 11 p.m. when he and his wife could not get their front door open. Police found the door blocked by a dining room chair.

In addition to the mink coat, the burglar took a silver plate service for 12 in a mahogany case, a set of six steak knives and an antique designed pendant pearl and rhinestone necklace, police reported.

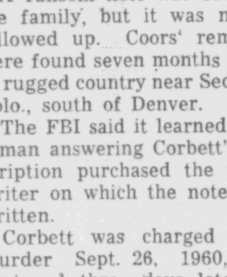

San Rafael Plans To Spray Trees

San Rafael Public Works Department crews will start spraying street trees in Bret Harte and Sun Valley at 6 a.m. tomorrow, Public Works Director Norris Rawles announced today.

Modesto ash trees in the two areas will be sprayed tomorrow against aphis and anthracnose, Rawles announced.

The following day, sycamore trees besides streets throughout the city will be sprayed.

Rawles cautioned that automobiles should not be parked overnight at curbs, lest they interfere with the early-morning street sprayers and be spotted with the spray mist.

The Cause Of Bursitis

by Dr. Robert W. Pearce

Bursitis is not a serious ailment but it can cause great pain. Sometimes it will completely disable its victim. It occurs usually after prolonged or strenuous exertion.

"Tennis elbow" is another name for bursitis, but it is not restricted to tennis players, nor even to elbows. It could just as easily strike at the shoulder joint of a housewife cleaning the window, or at the knee of a man digging in the garden.

The disease is an inflammation of what is known as the bursal sac. This is a small fluid-filled cavity which normally protects the joints between bones and prevents friction.

Inflammation and pain develop in a particular joint, when the nerve supply to the involved bursal sac is pinched off by a spinal misalignment. When the nerve supply is restored, the bursal sac will again function normally and the pain will disappear.

Chiropractors are trained to find and correct spinal distortions and thus restore full movement and function to the joint. Chiropractors use X-ray and other analytical instruments to help you with painless but effective care.

Clothing Link Discounted In Murder Case

The clothing taken from a man questioned in connection with the Mount Tamalpais execution murder apparently does not tie in with the case, Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos said today.

The sheriff received the clothing this morning from the Philippine National Bureau of Investigation, which had taken it from Jesse J. Henry, 32, a Baptist minister who is headed for Thailand.

The clothing will be given more investigation, Sheriff Mountanos said, and then it will be sent back to Henry at the next port of entry of his ship, if it still does not tie in with the case.

The nude body of ex-Marine Jerry Sangster was found on Mount Tamalpais on Feb. 5. He had been shot in the back of the head.

In Manila, Henry gave sworn statements that he did not know Sangster and had never been in San Rafael. He voluntarily took a lie detector test, but the Philippine National Bureau of Investigation said it did not clear him. Later he returned to his freighter.

Lake Stafford to preserve water supplies," he reported.

The question of water rationing will be a "nip and tuck" matter, Gilbert said. "It depends on the rain from now on.

Gilbert agreed with state director Warne's comments on low runoff in much of the state. The nature of the rainfall has been such that runoff was light. It has been widely dispersed, and there have been no heavy storms," Gilbert said.

Warne said only the upper Sacramento Valley and north coastal area will have near-normal water supplies.

"Even with normal precipitation for the remainder of the season, runoff in the area south of Sacramento will be near a record low," he said.

Kentfield Tax Session Slated

Kentfield district voters will go to the polls April 18 to vote on a 50-cent increase in the general tax rate, which would increase the present $1.75 per $100 assessed valuation to $2.25. District residents now pay an additional 76 cents in override taxes for special purposes.

OBITUARIES

2nd Mayor Of Corte Madera Dies At 83

Henry J. Thomas, 83, Corte Madera's second mayor, died unexpectedly at his home in Corte Madera on Saturday afternoon.

Death came of a heart attack. His physician and town firemen tried vainly to save his life with oxygen.

Thomas was elected mayor of Corte Madera on April 19, 1920, four years after the town's incorporation. At that time the town council was known as the board of trustees and the mayor's official title was chairman of the board. In his first election, Thomas received 138 votes to his opponent's 79. He served two terms as mayor.

He was also the town's first fire commissioner and an honorary member of the volunteer fire department. During his civic life, he was also Corte Madera building inspector and served on the board of directors of Marin Municipal Water District.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Clyde Thomas, and a sister, Margaret Thomas of San Francisco. The couple had no children.

Thomas and his wife moved to Corte Madera from San Francisco in 1917. Since that time, they lived at 325 Redwood Avenue in one of the town's oldest homes. Prior to establishing Marin residence, Thomas maintained a summer home in Corte Madera and was instrumental in the town's incorporation.

A native of San Francisco, he retired in 1948 as secretary of the Builder's Exchange there.

Thomas was a member of Mission Lodge 169, Free and Accepted Masons; Mission Chapter 79, Royal Arch Masons, of which he was at onetime high priest and life member, and Marin Commandery 73, Knights Templar. He was past adjutant and member of the Veterans' Patrol of Islam Temple; of the Shrine, and a member of Marin Rod and Gun Club.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 10:30 a.m. at the Chapel of the Hills, San Anselmo. Inurnment will be private.

WHAT DOCTORS SAY ABOUT:
Better Health Through Knowledge

Bottle To Cup

- Vitamin C
- Cesareans
- Cat Phobia

Q. At what age should a baby be taught to use a cup?

A. All babies should probably be trained to the cup before the end of the first year. The longer a baby is allowed to have a bottle the harder it is to wean him.

Q. How much vitamin C does the body need?

A. School-age children and adults need about 75 mg. per day. In pregnancy, the requirement is about 100 mg. daily; for nursing mothers, about 150 mg. daily.

Q. If cesarean section is harmless, why aren't all babies delivered this way?

A. Who said cesarean section is harmless? The operation involves increased hazards to the mother, to the child, and to future childbearing. There are medical indications for cesarean section. When these do not exist, normal vaginal delivery is best by far.

Q. I am absolutely terrified by cats. Is there any way to overcome this phobia?

A. With proper professional guidance it is often possible to overcome any phobia by building up "tolerance." For example, the cat-phobic person progressively handles cloth graded in texture and appearance from very unlike cat fur to very much like cat fur (rabbit). The last step is to handle a live kitten. It is much the same as conditioning a child who is afraid of dogs by giving him a puppy. The puppy is friendly and playful and is enough unlike a grown dog to be accepted by the child. Acceptance is carried along as the puppy grows. Later, the dislike for all dogs disappears.

Pistons Gain NBA Playoff

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Jerry West, the Los Angeles Lakers' valuable rookie, proved even more valuable to the Detroit Pistons in the final seven seconds of the National Basketball Association season.

West's basket with only seven seconds left yesterday helped the Lakers to a 123-122 victory over the Cincinnati Royals. The loss eliminated the Royals from the NBA playoffs and gave the berth to the Pistons. The playoffs start tomorrow.

Detroit had clinched at least a tie for the third and last playoff berth in the Western Division a couple of hours earlier when it defeated New York 120-106.

The Eastern Division long ago was sewed up so third-place Syracuse's 136-134 overtime loss to champion Boston didn't mean a thing in the final standings. However, the Nats, which meet Philadelphia tomorrow night in the start of the best-of-five series, still are finding it hard to win and will have to catch fire suddenly to go anywhere in the playoffs.

The Lakers and Pistons start their best-of-five series in Los Angeles tomorrow night with the winner meeting St. Louis in a best-of-seven series. The Hawks, Western Division champs, closed their season against Philadelphia Saturday night with a 130-87 victory. Cincinnati beat the Lakers 108-105 Saturday.

Geminiani hurled four innings of hitless ball and LeBeck pitched the final three frames, allowing the only hit.

State GOP Group Adopts Policy With Little Friction

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO—Republicans have less trouble reaching agreement on policy stands than do Democrats, it appeared after the Republican State Central Committee meeting in Sacramento this weekend.

Only one dispute arose on the floor as the committee passed 31 resolutions. It involved the wording of a resolution which called for "an increase in the national minimum wage" and the "inclusion of farm workers" under it.

All shades of opinion from complete rejection of a national minimum wage to blanket inclusion of nearly everyone were expressed.

The 475-member group finally agreed on the resolution as originally presented, but only after almost referring it back to committee "for further study."

The GOP unit also took stands on:

THE GOVERNOR: Gov. Edmund G. Brown has a "soft attitude toward the criminal element"; has disregarded the needs of employers and produced a bad business climate; has proposed a "shadow plan" for government reorganization; has used State Consumer Counsel Helen Nelson as a "political tool."

CRIME: "The lack of a responsible program" by the Brown administration was denounced and the GOP supported stronger penalties for narcotics violators.

COMMUNISM: The GOP offered to distribute to college groups authentic films dealing with communism and urged Republican groups to show such films.

AGRICULTURE: The GOP endorsed the right of farm workers to organize but preferred federal, rather than state, legislation in the field. The Republicans endorsed renewal of the Bracero program.

LABOR: The party supported collective bargaining and the right of union members to full participation in Union affairs.

RED CHINA: The GOP commended President John F. Kennedy's statement that the United States would not surrender to the Chinese Reds as a price for relaxing tensions and urged a reappraisal of Red China policies by local Democratic organizations.

NEGROES: The GOP approved formation of a committee to organize a public relations program aimed at Negro voters, noting that there will be one million such voters by the next general election.

DISCRIMINATION: Opposed federal aid to any project in which there is racial or religious discrimination.

VOTING: Urged Congress to investigate "vote frauds" and opposed bills in the legislature, sponsored by Democrats, to prohibit challenging a voter's literacy at the polls.

Auto Crashes Embankment; Driver Jailed

Charges of felony drunk driving and resisting arrest were filed against Wilfred S. Corda, 27, grocery clerk of 117 Woodland Avenue, San Rafael, last night after he rammed his sports car into the highway embankment opposite Bermuda Palms motel on Francisco Boulevard.

His passenger, Laurence Giambastiani, 27, salesman of 1902 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Fairfax, was in satisfactory condition at San Rafael General Hospital today after suffering severe scalp cuts when his head went through the windshield. The California Highway Patrol on surgeon's request took a fragment of flesh from the car to the hospital for skin grafting.

Corda and Giambastiani left the Bermuda Palms parking lot shortly before 10 p.m. Corda drove across the boulevard into the embankment supporting Highway 101, slightly elevated at that point.

San Rafael policeman James Carlton told Corda not to move his car, in an area under jurisdiction of the California Highway Patrol. In the midst of argument with Carlton, who was off duty, Officer L. A. deLisle Jr. arrived and supported Carlton's order.

As deLisle tried to get the car keys, Corda backed the vehicle suddenly, spraining deLisle's right hand when it was struck by a door, the officer reported. Three efforts had to be made to handcuff Corda before they were successful, police said.

Highway Patrolmen James Dukes and John Courter then arrived and had some difficulty in persuading Corda to enter an ambulance.

Corda was treated at San Rafael General Hospital for a cut eyebrow and released to police, who put him in the county jail from which he was later released after posting bond of $1,050.

Airman Accused Of Knife Attack

A 2c Rodolfo (Rudy) Canut, 23, of 328 G Street, San Rafael, was charged with assault with a deadly weapon by Novato police after a fight Saturday night.

Franklin B. Teixeira (also known as Pimentel), 24, employed on the Pinheiro Ranch near Novato, told police Canut came at him with a knife or baonet while Teixeira was in his car.

Police found a three-and-one-half-inch slit in the top of Teixeira's convertible. They could find no knife or bayonet.

Canut also was charged with disturbing the peace. He was released later Saturday on $500 bail.

Governor Of Iowa Pays Visit Here

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Gov. Norman Erbe of Iowa, fresh from a night in Marin County, warned a Republican banquet in Sacramento Saturday night that a threat "is already being made" by the Kennedy administration against "freedom of public expression in our governmental processes."

The Republican governor, brother of Mrs. E. H. Bergman of Mill Valley, came to Marin Friday night with his wife, Jackie, and stayed at the Bergman home.

He went to Sacramento on Saturday and flew back to Iowa that night.

Governor Erbe cited President John F. Kennedy's order to the secretary of defense to "refrain from discussing disappearance" of the missile gap as an illustration of what he meant. He warned of "Madison Avenue tactics" employed by the administration and declared "the personal agrandizement of any one individual or political machine must never be allowed to take priority over the right of the people to know the facts."

Addressing 1,200 Republicans dining in the El Dorado Hotel as a part of the State Central Committee meeting, he lashed out at what he called the "political juggling act that the Democrats will try to undertake in order to avoid the responsibility" of being majority party.

He urged Republicans to watch the performance of the Democrats and compare it with their promises, particularly in the fields of civil rights, retired senior citizens, inflation and leadership.

He also deplored voting alleged irregularities last November and challenged the administration to conduct a real study and introduce constructive legislation to eliminate vote fraud.

The governor was introduced by Marin Sen. John F. McCarthy, minority leader of the State Senate.

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The state adopted 36 employee suggestions in January representing an annual savings of $17,388, according to the State Department of Finance.

COORDINATION UNIT

First District GOP Forms New Group

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Republicans of the First Congressional District, which includes Marin County, set up a new organization over the weekend designed to coordinate all GOP activities in the seven coastal counties.

At the same time the group passed a strongly worded statement deploring the activities of Rep. Clement W. Miller of Corte Madera for exerting "extreme pressures upon members of the California legislature to drop his home county of Marin from the district."

The new organization, called the First Congressional District Congressional Committee, was set up at a caucus of about 50 persons attending the Republican State Central Committee meeting.

Fred G. Dupuis of Tiburon was elected chairman pro tem and was instructed to call a meeting in the next few weeks at which a permanent organization would be set up, permanent officer and an executive committee elected. As invisioned by the group, the new committee would be composed of members of the seven county central committees, members of all GOP volunteer organizations chartered by the central committees, state legislators, both incumbents and candidates, and members and associate members of the state central committee living in these counties.

Purpose of the large membership, according to David Winslow, chairman of the Marin County Republican Central Committee, is to "assure all interested segments of the Republican Party an opportunity of expression" and to assure coordinated action throughout the district.

The unanimous blast at Miller was for his reported activities aimed at the reapportioning Marin County into a new congressional district with a portion of San Francisco.

"In reply to direct inquiry from responsible newspapers in the district, Mr. Miller has pretended ignorance and refused to declare himself on the issue," the statement said. "Marin County is an integral part of the economic and political structure of the Redwood Empire. Mr. Miller's effort to destroy this traditional relationship for his own political benefit displays a total lack of concern for the overall best interests of more than 500,000 people."

Persistent Burglar Calls Once Too Often

Johanson, an unemployed San Francisco sheet metal worker who escaped Saturday from Napa State Hospital, was nabbed by Mill Valley police on Edgewood Avenue early yesterday, seven minutes after Koenig arrived home to see him running out the back door.

Police said Johanson, after his escape from Napa, went to the Koenig home, entered through a kitchen window, ate some chicken, drank some milk and then went to bed in Koenig's bed. He got up and fled in a hurry when Koenig arrived home.

But it wasn't his first visit there, the 25-year-old Johanson told police.

He said he had paid nocturnal calls, uninvited, to the home on Feb. 16, 24 and 27. During those visits, he said, he stole clothes and a transistor radio.

He took nothing on his latest visit, Johanson insisted, except the chicken and milk which he carried away inside him.

Chorale, Soloists Present Interesting, Unusual 'Passion'

By DAVID REED

San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo was the scene of an interesting and unusual concert yesterday afternoon. The Marin Chorale, under direction of Dr. John Milton Kelly, combined talents with soloists Richard Robinson, tenor; Robert Oliver, bass, and harpsichordist Bernice Usdane to present "The Passion According to St. Matthew" by Heinrich Schuetz.

As a prelude to the concert, four keyboard compositions from the 17th Century were brilliantly performed by Mrs. Usdane. The artistry and virtuosity displayed by this Mill Valley resident were warmly applauded by a large and enthusiastic audience.

There are two aspects of the Schuetz "St. Matthew Passion" which make it an interesting and appealing work. One is the composer's intention that the work be performed without accompaniment of any kind. This was an awesome task for the two principal soloists, Robinson as the evangelist and Oliver as Jesus.

The task is doubly difficult because the solos are not songs or arias in the sense of choral works such as "The Messiah." Rather, the solos are all recitative, a sort of neo-Gregorian chant. It is a tribute to the abilities of Robinson and Oliver that they were able to convey considerable dramatic force and local beauty within the rigid limitations of this style of singing.

Other roles in the "Passion," Peter, Judas, Mary and others, were taken by members of the chorale. Of these Roland Standring was impressive and should share honors with the two principals.

Except for the final chorus, the choir in this work sings only short, albeit difficult, fragments. The chorale, in the matters of diction and ensemble was not able to cope with heavy demands of baroque polyphony, although it must be said that the tone quality was at all times warm and firm.

More Vehicles

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — California closed 1960 with 6 per cent more vehicles registered in the state than were registered at the close of 1959. The State Department of Motor Vehicles counted 8,681,162 registrations on Dec. 31 last year. The figure marked an increase of 489,824 over 1959.

Dianne Spayd, chairman of the ceremony, gave a short talk. The flag was raised by a color guard of Coast Guard Reserve Unit ORTUPS 12-741 under command of Homer Freed.

Bad Bill Would Give Tenure To All Teachers

A school bill which in effect would give tenure to every working school teacher in Marin County and elsewhere, and to every teacher as soon as he is hired, is quietly slipping through the legislature in Sacramento.

The bill, AB 337 by Edward E. Elliott (D-Los Angeles), already has passed the State Assembly and has moved to the Senate's Education Committee.

One reason there has been no great outcry is that the wording of the bill itself seems to be innocuous. It requires that, as in school districts having average daily attendance of more than 85,000 students, probationary teachers can be dismissed for cause only in districts under 85,000. Cause is definitely defined in the Education Code and must be proven.

In a huge school district with 85,000 students, it might work to give everyone tenure. If they didn't work out in one job, they might work out in another.

But in a small district, even one as large as Tamalpais High School District, the largest in Marin County, an out-of-step teacher can cause all kinds of problems. In a real small district, automatic tenure could be a catastrophy.

No school board should have to be so infalible as to be required to keep teachers just because they hired them. Good teachers sometimes don't fit into a particular school situation. Bad teachers are often able to convince a superintendent they are good, then are careful not to make the mistakes which would make them eligible for dismissal for cause.

Practically any employer needs a probationary period while he discovers if a new employee will fit into his organization. The schools deserve to keep this same right.

Besides, it would be bad for the teachers themselves. A good staff could be saddled with a bad apple if the probationary period were to be, for all intents and purposes, eliminated.

If there were a surplus of teachers and school districts were developing patterns of dismissal just before tenure, there might be some excuse for this legislation.

As it is now, it is a bad bill and should be defeated.

Wild Birds And Tame Birds

The other morning we happened to be awake at an early hour and heard a rooster crowing in the distance. This simple fact started a train of thought and wonder about the large number of birds man has managed to domesticate.

In Marin alone, we have a wide variety of barnyard fowl, pet birds and tamed wild birds. Some wild birds, like the blue jays, practically beg to become family pets and put in regular appearances at feeding time.

The borderline between tame and wild birds is thinner than most of us generally realize. A seagull can be tamer than a swan. Birds have distinctive temperaments and the domesticated are not always the sweetest.

GEESE MAKE GOOD WEEDERS

In California, for instance, farmers employ as many as 200,000 geese a year to rid their fields of weeds.

In Canada one farmer alone uses 50 of the birds on a 55-acre strawberry patch. The geese have a knack of eating the weeds as they appear and of leaving the strawberry plants alone during their first year before the berries appear.

Would that it were as simple to root out the weeds continually cropping up in the life of the individual, community, nation and world.

It is a never-ending battle to persevere despite intrusions that stifle one's full spiritual development.

One effective way to achieve and maintain the maturity of soul that God wishes you to enjoy is to fill your garden of life with so many good plants that there will be no room for weeds of any sort.

"The cares of the world and the deceitfulness of riches, and the lusts after other things entering in choke the word." (Mark 4:19)

Let me sow so many seeds of love and truth, O Lord, that I may never be bothered by the weeds of evil.

It's The Little Things In Life That Get You Down—Like Work

By FRANCIS STILLEY
(For Hal Boyle)

There are plenty of them. To wit:

Penny chewing gum machines that gum up.

Waiting in a supermarket checkout line with only a can of beans in hand while four people ahead get mountains of groceries toted up and sacked.

The mosquito which pounces in the middle of the night—then, in cowardly fashion, hides out when you get up and try to find it.

THAT WRETCH WHO, upon being told he has the wrong number, hangs up with the sarcastic implication that it's all your fault.

Garbage collectors who start clanking at 4 a.m., 5 a.m., 6 a.m., most any time.

SHOES THAT ARE too tight.

People the same way.

Burned toast.

Work.

Praise For Sausalito Police

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I have sent the following letter:

Police Chief Howard Goerndt,
Sausalito:

All too often we take the service performed by you and your men for granted. Seemingly, the only public voice raised is in squawks over traffic tickets or, perhaps, jokes that are not always in the best taste.

But you and the men of your department must be commended in the highest order.

Shooting near my residence Saturday evening resulted in my wife becoming greatly frightened. You and your men were on the job immediately and Officer Cooper greatly helped to calm her over the telephone.

Further, your visit Monday to reassure her as well was a fine—completely unexpected and uncalled for—gesture.

It is most reassuring to know we have men of this caliber protecting the residents of Sausalito.

Thank you for an outstanding job.

Might Check Inside Books Too

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Some of us, recently, were more than gently joggled out of a lethargic state which exists surrounding our educational system; specifically regarding the wastage involved in the burning of text books. Surely better planning and management was called for, being my own reaction to this hitherto unknown situation.

However, thrifty persons though all of us may be, we might agree to wholesale disposal of more books given the opportunity to read some of the seventh grade level social studies books which it has been my disagreeable experience to peruse. And conclude, too, that these books are a disgrace to a community with such widespread high-level academic training and background.

The books I read were not well written, had inadequate content, with coherence and clarity lacking. Nor did they contain up-to-date information regarding world affairs. Perhaps the answer to the problem will be a more pliable system whereby we will not be so concerned about the beauty of the book as such, but more interested in what it contains and how it is written. Paper-backs of a sort, might be the answer to our dilemma.

To expect our children to make good at high school and college level with elementary grounding such as this does not add up. English is the most commonly required remedial course in our state colleges today.

Perhaps we will prevent more expense in later years when these seventh graders are attending college and can participate immediately in English 1A and 1B courses—we'll save time for the students, money from needless salaries. These standards are the least we owe our children; yours and mine.

Not Terrified To Discuss Red China

Independent-Journal:

I was amused by Milen Dempster's letter to the I-J of March 3 in which he declared that because of the baleful effects of actions of the House Committee on Un-American Activities people are too terrified to discuss the possibility of admitting Red China to membership in the United Nations.

Three years ago when my son was a senior at Drake High School he was subjected in three different classes to such a barrage of propaganda for Red China's admission to the U.N. that it took a bit of doing on my part to convince him that valid arguments actually existed in behalf of the U.S. position against such action: the foolishness of substituting a U.S. enemy for a U.S. friend in the Security Council, for one, and the adverse effect on the morale of anti-Communist governments in Asia, for another.

That these points—and the fact that the U.S. Congress had annually adopted near-unanimous resolutions against Red China's admission—were not allowed to intrude on the objectivity of the school discussions seems a little difficult to explain on the basis of the prevailing McCarthyism of the times.

Mr. Dempster's almost total divorcement from reality on the subject of what can and what can't be said about Red China is typical, it seems to me, of the state of mind of those engaged in the present hysterical campaign to discredit the work of the House Committee on Un-American Activities in general and the documentary film of the San Francisco riot against the committee in particular.

As the recent anti-U.S. demonstrations in a dozen cities of the world protesting the death of Patrice Lumumba revealed once more, the Communists have achieved remarkable mastery of the technique of promoting riots at the push of a button. The San Francisco riot was of that category was made abundantly clear in the F.B.I. report on the incident.

It's only human nature, of course, that people who unwittingly or dimwittedly lent support to the demonstration are distressed to have it labelled as Communist-directed. But rather than spend so much time trying to avoid admitting their mistake, and so much effort in windmill-tilting at imagined threats to civil liberties, wouldn't it be more mature to devote their considerable talents to the real problem—the steady erosion of human freedom everywhere under the pressure of continuing Communist conquest all over the globe?

In darkest Philadelphia, a judge regarded a housewife with admiration and amazement, and said, "Madam, I cannot get over a frail little lady like you having the courage to attack a burglar, and in pitch dark at that." I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By BRUCE COLEMAN

When The Chips Are Down, Everyone Must Conform

When the chips are down, everyone must conform. And it's surprising how easy it is to call a dog a dog, a pig a pig and a doll a doll. Viz:

POLITICS: In Marin City's election to select a new name for the community or keep the old one, results were: Manzanita, 62; Marin City, 18, and Klansville, 1.

The election was declared void and another is to be held.

ANIMAL HUSBANDRY: Napoleon, the lonely duck who braved the weasel to save his mother at the home of the Joe Wittenmeiers in Mill Valley and survived with a scruffy neck, has turned out to be Napoleanna.

Ed Giesecke says that no sooner had Naples moved to the weasel-less corporation yard than he laid five eggs. Alors.

INTERNATIONAL: Danish-born, Cigarillo-smoking Mrs. K. W. Pedersen, 61, red bandana around her head, red flowers in her hand, walking swiftly through town as is her bent, was asked how many cigarillos she puts out a day.

"About 30," she said.

"What do they do for you?"

"They give me spirit," she said.

SOCIAL ITEM: Rex, part boxer and part Norwegian elkhound, celebrated his 14th anniversay with dachshund friend Inky, 7, and firehouse dog, Peaches, 7. The party took place at fireman Slue Cardwell's. Cake, angel food, ice cream, chocolate.

Rex was born, one of 10 in the firehouse engine room. It was his 12th formal party.

OWL STORY: When Mill Valley's Manny Gomez, always good for an original quotable quote, made his fiery plea before the City Council that the councilmen approve a 15,000 square foot zoning classification so that he might get nearer to building on his hillside lots, he allowed:

"I'm stuck in the mud . . . Why, I'm for quail and I always get an owl. When two birds split, one is a quail and one is an owl. I always land with an owl on my end, the one with the big eyes."

Manny, whose nephew J. Robert Gomez is planning a development next to his, was asked by Councilman Joseph E. Sheeks: "Is there any particular significance as to why you are wearing your jeweler's eye glass tonight, Mr. Gomez?"

PLUMBING: Allen K. Kennett who makes his home on the S.S. Maggie tied up near Gate 5 Road in Marinship, ran into problems last week when he applied for a use permit to build a bathroom facility in his garage on shore.

Kennett, who is married and has three youngsters, has facilities on his boat, but told the commissioners he has need of an extra facility.

The commissioners told Kennett they would ask City Atty. John B. Ehlen for an opinion as to whether or not this came under the jurisdiction of the commission and, if so, if the use permit is applicable.

WASHINGTON—An appropriation of $100,000 a year in perpetuity is required every time Congress adds a judge to the U.S. courts.

When Congress, after neglecting the courts for years, suddenly starts adding a trainload of new judges—more than requested by the courts themselves, more than recommended by Presidents Eisenhower and Kennedy, more than proposed by the attorney general—this is not only a waste of the taxpayers' money, it is an action which has "judicial pork-barrel" all over it.

While the Senate Judiciary Committee was rushing through this bill pushing up the number of judges, the committee was so light-heartedly generous to senatorial colleagues, that a member couldn't safely put up his hand to scratch his head without being voted a judge for his state.

THE COMMITTEE made it 69 and for the good measure the Senate, tossing in a few more, pushed the number to 73 and now is only waiting for the House to give a quick yes—or add some of its own before the public realizes what's going on.

There is a powerful case to be made against this precipitate scrambling for judicial spoils:

1—The Senate has authorized 33 more judges than recommended by President Eisenhower and 14 more than recommended by President Kennedy. The Senate has acted without its Judicial Committee taking a single syllable of testimony on the need for pushing the number up.

2—The SPONSORS of this crass judicial "numbers game" seem guiltily eager to get the whole business out of the way with the fat number of judges fixed beyond recall—before March 13 when the Judicial Conference, headed by Chief Justice Earl Warren, will review the needs of the courts.

But, since the Senate Judiciary Committee did not want to hear any witnesses who might question its bloated judgeship bill, they obviously don't want any of the facts and judgments of the Judicial Conference report. Hence the rush for quick passage before the facts get to the public.

3—Respected and outspoken judges agree that the judicial council ought to undertake some long-delayed court reforms before Congress covers up the need for these reforms.

In the February issue of the "American Bar Association Journal," Chief Judge J. Edward Lumbard, of the Court of Appeals of the Second District, shows how the judicial councils can go a long way toward clearing the courts of egregious over-congestion. He suggests that, if they fail to do so, Congress put on some heat.

LIKE JUDGE Warren Burger of the District Court of Appeals, Judge Lumbard frankly says that too many judges are simply not doing their work, and asks: "If . . . judges fail to take assignments to which they have agreed and instead plan to spend several months on vacation, why shoudn't the council take action to prevent such dereliction of duty?"

Well, why not? And if the judicial councils fail to act, why doesn't Congress do something before padding the judiciary?

The Country Parson

UN Journalist Urges Women To Lead Disarmament Fight

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

Outdoor Art Club members elected a nominating committee for officers, welcomed three new members and heard a talk on "United Nations — Peace in The Making" by Ruth Gage Colby at its home day meeting Thursday afternoon.

New members welcomed by president Mrs. Philip T. Smith and presented with carnation corsages by membership chairman Mrs. Ralph Martindale were Mesdames Robert E. Wickersham, Dixwell Ross and Lewis M. Simes.

Chosen to serve on the nominating committee during the meeting which followed an informal luncheon served by Mrs. Robert Matson and her committee were Mesdames William Pemberton, chairman, R. B. Hartman, Delmar Clinton, Edward Johnson, John V. Buckley. Alternates will be Mesdames Gerhard Becker, Earle Marsh and Mrs. Martindale.

Mrs. Colby, a foreign correspondent covering the United Nations daily, urged all women to call on the U. S. Government to the lead in efforts to establish total, not partial, peace through total disarmament after stopping all atomic weapons testing.

She said, "There is no longer a risk in the choice of going forward into the space age or allowing ourselves to go into certain annihilation."

THE RISK

The risk, she declared, is in not trying to stop the mad arms race because any risk is less than the horror of the certain destruction that will come if it is not stopped.

Statements she quoted from eminent scientists in support of her declaration that the world is facing destruction by man-made fire rather than the supernatural kind prophesied in many religions included:

(1) There is now seven times as much fire power as would be needed to wipe out all life on earth seven times over.

(2) There are the equivalent of 10 tons of TNT for every man, woman and child in the world.

And (3) For every other person in the world there is the equivalent of the bomb dropped on Hiroshima.

Instead of this, she stressed, atomic power could bring a Utopia that would make possible such benefits as elimination of cold weather, poverty and disease, creation of limitless wealth, and complete change in the appearance of the earth and the life of all its peoples.

But the price, she stressed, is total peace.

"There are no channels through which this can come about more fully than through the various agencies of the UN," she explained, and continued with an outline of how they are building the physical bases of peace.

Under these she named (1) the UN's health organization, which is promoting the right to be "born well and wanted" through planned families and helping mothers through dangers of childbirth in clinics.

(2) The UNICEF (concerned with child welfare) and world health organizations, which are working toward improvement in foods and elimination of such diseases as malaria.

(3) The food and agricultural organization, whose "Freedom from Hunger" campaign through distribution of surpluses is bringing food to the starving, especially in famine areas.

(4) The UN's committee working toward a guarantee of the right of all to live through its "Treaty to prevent and punish genocide." Under this treaty, the speaker pointed out, it would be possible to fix blame for wiping out millions of people on individuals instead of whole nations, which are not really punishable.

ITS MEMBERSHIP

What the UN must do, Mrs. Colby stressed, in addition to stopping atomic testing and working for total disarmament, is include all nations in its membership, especially Red China with its 750,000,000 people, and work for true equality of all races, religions, creeds and the sexes.

Women do not have true equality, she said. "They are the patient workers who are carrying the world's burdens. We have every right to honor our sex throughout the world."

The speaker went on to discribe many positive steps in the right direction being taken by UNESCO through its educational, scientific and cultural programs.

"Peace has become the synonym of life itself," she concluded.

Greeting guests at the door were Mesdames B. L. McCormick, Roger Verran and Herbert Marsh, and assisting Mrs. Matson were Mesdames Robert Eddy, Roland Kelly, James Verby and Irving Larson.

Reason for the current excitement over the haute couture of Dior, Monte-Sano, Scarsi and other great fashion names, will be evident on Thursday when their haute couture has its first showing in Marin at the distinctive Ondine in Sausalito.

Elegance will be in the air at "Fashions With a View" with the vistas of the Ondine forming the perfect backdrop for the couturier fashions as one of the nation's most distinquished shops becomes "Your Guide to a Beautiful Spring".

Reservations for a first look at the New York and Paris fashion delights may be made by calling the Ondine in Sausalito. Luncheon is served at 12:30 with the fashions modeled informally in the intimate Ondine setting.

OUR FAVORITE Guide Dog "Chita" ponders the spring beauty of Mrs. Jack Coddington who will promenade on Thursday at Fashions With a View from the Ondine in the haute couture of a San Francisco shop. Inspiration for Thursday's theme comes from Lawrence Rees, training director of Guide Dogs for the Blind, Inc., who will be welcomed as the special guest with a viewpoint. A PLACE FOR THE HANDICAPPED — Building trades union members are contributing their work to ready house at 629 Mission Avenue, San Rafael, for an office and activity building for the Marin Society for Crippled Children and Adults. Marin Asked To Aid Handicapped Center

Marin Society for Crippled Children and Adults Inc. issued a special appeal for help today in reconstructing an old frame house in San Rafael as the future "home" of more than 4,000 adults and children served each year by the society.

The society bought the former Charles Walsh estate at 629 Mission Avenue for about $15,000. Mrs. Charles H. Brown of San Anselmo, recording secretary of the society, announced that reconstruction is planned for completion in about two months.

The two-story frame building will be stuccoed on the outside, and the basement replaced with concrete.

George Scott, president of the Marin County Building Trades Council, has offered the services of union men, Mrs. Brown announced. "We are appealing for donations —anything like lumber, materials, paint, labor that would be of use in the reconstruction," she said.

Recreation director Mrs. Alfred Cherry of Sleepy Hollow has developed a program of social life, ceramics, weaving and other types of amusements for adults. About 30 adults are participating now.

The society, headed by president Frank J. Keaton, also gives direct service to about 4,000 physically handicapped persons each year. Aid is in the form of money, orthopedic, speech therapy and similar assistance.

Ralph Murphy and Sons is in charge of the building reconstruction. M. J. Cordone of San Anselmo is chairman of the society's building fund.

The appeal for help to build the center is made in conjunction with the Easter Seal drive.

"We need money badly to complete the center, and every bit will help," said Mrs. Brown. "This will be the first time that the society will have a center to carry out its year-round program for rehabilitation and recreation of the handicapped."

The office of the Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Inc. is now located at 1036 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Kentfield. The adult program is held at 1011 E Street, San Rafael.

Hub Council To Discuss Freeway Plan

The San Anselmo City Council will discuss the proposed state freeway route through the Hub City at tomorrow night's regular meeting, which begins at 8 o'clock in the city hall.

Councilmen want public reaction on where the proposed freeway should pass. Three routes are under consideration. One is from San Rafael via the Miracle Mile. The second is from Greenbrae via Sir Francis Drake Boulevard. The third, through Lucas Valley, would bypass San Anselmo completely.

A representative from the State Division of Highways has been invited to the meeting to give information on the state's freeway plan.

Bids will be opened for the improvement of San Anselmo Avenue.

Other items on the city council agenda include these:

A report on the financial feasibility of developing the downtown area, tree planting program, curtains for the council chambers, design of downtown street lights, and a request for certain employee benefits for the 1961-62 fiscal year.

A letter of resignation will be received from Lee Busolo, member of the planning commission. Service citations will be presented to Mrs. Mary Donnelly, who quit as chairman of the planning commission, and Police Officer James Farmer, who retired.

PATROL WARNS ON USE OF 1-WAY STREET

Although Manuel Freitas Parkway was posted for one-way traffic by the California Highway Patrol last Wednesday, many Terra Lindans sturdily persist in using it two-way at great jeopardy to themselves and others, Capt. T. F. Parnow of the patrol's Marin office said today.

"Marin County has already had more than enough head-on collisions this year so far," said Parnow. "Please ask these people to catch on to the new one-way system." The road where the trouble is reported is north of the ditch which is dividing line between Terra Linda and San Rafael. It should now be used only for westbound traffic. Anybody eastbound to Highway 101 should use the road south of the ditch in San Rafael territory.

Girl's Speech Wins Contest

Representing the San Rafael Lions Club, she defeated winners from West Marin, San Geronimo and Novato clubs.

Suzanne as a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lyons of Morrison Road, Ross. She will compete in the regional contest March 23 at Corte Madera Recreation Center against winners from three other Marin County zones.

Boulder Halts Car Rolling Down Grade

With only one month's driving experience and a new automobile, Mary Louise Coleman, 24, of 59 Grove Lane, was southbound at 6:20 a.m. to work in a San Francisco bank.

She had just passed Rodeo Avenue on Highway 101 when her car got too close to the road edge, she later told California Highway Patrolman Charles Butterworth. This led to a series of over-corrections finally putting her car over the guard rail, which the vehicle straddled for 24 feet before starting over the bank.

The car went down 20 feet and was stopped by ramming a boulder which kept it from going over the edge of a cliff.

Novato Planners Hear Trailer Report Tonight

A discussion of possible trailer court zoning and development standards for courts is on the agenda tonight for the Novato Planning Commission.

Commissioners will meet at 8 p.m. at city hall to consider a report from planning adviser Bill D. Dobbs on trailers. Also on the agenda is a request for architectural supervision from Andrew B. Talbot of San Francisco for construction of a third story on a building at Fifth and Grant Streets.

Man Jailed After Row With Wife, Father

San Anselmo police who made the arrest, said Francis drove up to Hank's Wilshire Station, which is owned by his father, Henry Francis of 48 Bothin Road, Fairfax, and in which he is employed.

He demanded that his wife, Evelyn, who was at the station with his father, give him some money. She gave him $40 but he asked for more.

When she refused, he became angry and began striking her, police said. She fled to the service station office with her husband in pursuit. His father then hit Francis with a tire-iron to halt the beating.

The younger Francis, staggered by the blow, threatened his father's life, jumped into his car and drove off, said Police Sgt. James Orr, who arrested the younger Francis in his car on the Miracle Mile about two hours later.

Francis was booked in the county jail on charges of assault and battery and disturbing the peace after he was treated in San Rafael General Hospital for bruises on head and legs. His wife required no medical attention.

Francis, freed later on $315 bail, is scheduled for arraignment in Municipal Court Wednesday at 1:30 p.m.

Johansson weighed 206½. It also was Johansson's top weight. The New Yorker weighed 182 to Johansson's 196 for their first fight in New York, June 26, 1959, when the Swede knocked out Patterson.

In their return bout at New York last June 20, Patterson weighed 190, his heaviest to that date, when he knocked out Ingemar, who then weighed 194¾.

Patterson matches his speed and power against Johansson's dynamic right in a third title fight that figures to be as quick and explosive as their first two thrillers.

The New Yorker, heavier and broader around the shoulders than for the first two fights, is an overwhelming, 4-1 choice to make it two straight over the dimple-chinned Swede.

Practically no one expects this bout to go the distance in Convention Hall. The betting is even money that it won't go beyond six rounds and 6-1 it won't go the full 15. Very little betting is reported.

The pick by the writer is Patterson within five rounds. The writer, like most of those who covered the first two scraps, is 0 for 2, on the two upsets. It may be a good sign for Ingo. Patterson, 26, was a 5-1 favorite the first time and Johansson, 28, a 3-2 choice the next time around. Both fights were in New York.

With interest picking up last day momentum, Bill Fugazy, president of the promoting Features Sports, Inc., believes the fight will draw some 12,000 fans to the 17,000-seat arena for a gate of $550,000. Closed circuit TV officials estimate up to a million fans can see the fight in theaters, arenas and on community antenna systems.

The champion was dethroned on a seven knockdown, third round technical knockout in his first fight with Johansson on June 26, 1959.

But victory came to Patterson only after he had survived a stunning right hand blow high on the forehead that dazed him for seconds. Ingo's fatal error was in not following up the opening.

This third bout simply boils down to this: Can Johansson connect early with his fast, lethal right? If he doesn't it's almost a cinch he will be mowed down by the machine-gun bursts of the finely trained champion.

The big money for the fighters will come from the closed circuit telecasts, the movies and domestic (ABC) and foreign radio broadcasts. Theater TV is expected to bring in $3 million and could do $3½ million. Each fighter seems assured of at least $750,000 without counting the gate.

The gate should bring each about $100,000.

CONNOLLY

PHOENIX—The player who can unlock the pennant flavor for the Giants is Felipe Alou, power hitting outfielder, who will be alternating between third base and rightfield.

Al Dark, the new Giant manager, did not say it in so many words, but he outlined his thinking during a penthouse interview with this scribe the other night.

"I believe Alou can give a respectable performance at third base," said the Giant boss.

"And when I say that, I'm in no way indicating I have given up or diminished by opinion of the worth of Jimmy Davenport. I'm just juggling my players around to find out where they fit into my jig saw puzzle.

"BUT NO one knows, for sure, how his ulcers are going to behave. Neither do we want to guess or say he has completely recovered from a knee injury. Time alone will answer those questions.

"So Alou, a solid power hitter with a strong and accurate throwing arm and speed to burn, just MIGHT develop into a corking third sacker and give our infield greater offensive strength."

For the next 20 exhibition games Alou will be in and out of lineup at third base.

Dark implies if Alou should make the grade he can still use Davenport and Jose Pagan as alternate shortstops.

Davenport played the greater part of his minor league career at shortstop. From the time he broke in with El Dorado through Dallas, Minneapolis and finally San Francisco, Jimmy shifted back and forth at short and third base.

BUT TO the casual observer the chances of Alou making the regular third base job opens a new vista of hope for the Giants. It could mean McCovey, even if he flops, could easily be replaced either by Orlando Cepeda, Harvey Kuenn or even Jim Marshall, for a spell.

Another cheerful possibility, should Alou deliver, is the sturdy outfield combination of Willie Mays, Cepeda and Kuenn would be "set." A regular outfield trio playing regularly, means a lot to a manager and gives him more time to concentrate on infield and pitching problems.

The outlook for Alou at third base is the finest "move" yet made by the new Giant manager, who is slowly but surely blooming as a real baseball strategist. He seems able to analyze his men and their worth to the club.

MY GUESS, in view of the latest development on Alou at third base, would be that in the season opener against the Pirates on April 11, you'll probably find Alou at third, Davenport at shortstop, Don Blasingame at second base, McCovey at first and Mays, Cepeda and Kuenn in the outfield, with Bob Schmidt behind the plate.

I know from huddles with Manager Dark that he really is dedicated to determining once and for all time whether it is possible to make Willie McCovey a fixture in the Giant infield.

"From now until the season opens," Dark explains, "McCovey has a guardian angel—Coach Whitey Lockman, himself once a great first baseman.

"I AM NOT inclined to go along with some of the writers who say McCovey isn't a good infielder. From what I've seen he hasn't many flaws, at least not enough to tab him a poor infielder.

"But as I say I'm turning McCovey over to Whitey and it is his job from now on to wise up Willie."

McCovey, if he doesn't have to get a traffic cop to direct his feet, might learn to shift 'em okay. And if Whitey can do that he will be a howling success as a teacher and might just prove to the National League managers that he is a long ways from being an exile in the sport he played so long.

Losses Don't Worry Dark; Davenport Hot

By JACK STEVENSON

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—San Francisco manager Alvin Dark declares it's too early to be worried about any lack of attack by his Giants.

They fell 9-1 and 9-2 before the Cleveland Indians in the opening two games of the Cactus League exhibition season over the weekend.

"I think our hitters are a little bit behind," the new skipper commented after the second loss. "But I'm not concerned about it. We're working to be ready for the start of the season."

Dark found bright spots in yesterday's game, singling out the third base play of Jimmy Davenport and the curve ball pitching of Jack Sanford, who previously has relied almost completely on his fireball.

"Davenport looked great, didn't he?" said Dark. "He definitely couldn't have made plays like that last year. His leg seems very good."

In the opening inning, Jimmy ranged to his left to grab hard hit grounders by Johnny Temple and Jim Piersall and threw out both runners.

KNEE FINE

He says the knee, operated on between the 1959 and 1960 seasons, feels stronger this spring.

Of Sanford, the manager said, "It's the first time I've seen him throw curves that well. His fast ball always is good."

Dark sail he plans to sprinkle rookies into his lineup for this week's exhibition games, explaining, "I've got to learn something about them. I don't worry about Willie Mays and Orlando Cepeda. I've got to look at these other boys."

Mays failed to hit in the two Cleveland games and Cepeda collected just one single.

Rookie Dick Dietz and outfielder Felipe Alou saved the Giants from a shutout in the ninth yesterday when the former slammed a pinch hit triple and Felipe crashed a 310-foot home run over the right field fence.

The Giants had only eight off Barry Latman, Bob Allen and Wynn Hawkins, the latter throwing the home run ball.

Willie Kirkland, traded by San Francisco to Cleveland last winter, knocked in five runs during the weekend—two in the opener at Tucson with a single and three here yesterday with a sacrifice fly and a single.

TRAINING CAMPS

Series Standouts Star For Pirates

By U. P. INTERNATIONAL

Dick Groat and Don Hoak, inspirational leaders of the Pittsburgh Pirates who were limited to words during the off-season, are using their bats during the spring training session to answer those critics who thought the best team lost the 1960 World Series.

With Groat, the National League's most valuable player last season, and fiery third baseman Hoak supplying the punch the Pirates won their third straight exhibition game yesterday, defeating the Baltimore Orioles, 6-2. Meanwhile, the St. Louis Cardinals defeated the Yankees, 4-2, for their second victory in a row over the American League champions.

Hoak hit a home run and Groat smashed a double, each knocking in two runs in the Pirates' four-run eighth inning off the Orioles' rookie Johnny Papa. Hoak broke a 2-2 tie in the eighth with his blast following a walk to Roberto Clemente. Hal Smith's single and a double by Roman Mejias set the stage for Groat's double which provided the insurance runs. Groat and Hoak had three hits apiece for the day.

TOUGH PITCHING

Pittsburgh, however, could not do much off the servings of Jerry Walker and Gordon Jones during the first six frames, getting no runs and four hits, but started rolling once Papa, one of Paul Richards' young hopefuls, took the mound.

Tom Cheney, Jim Umbricht and Joe Gibbon limited the Orioles to five hits with Gibbon, showing he's recovered from the shellacking he received in the World Series from the Yanks, hurling three scoreless innings.

With slugger Mickey Mantle forced to the sidelines with a recurrence of his trick right knee injury, the Yankees combed four Cardinal hurlers for 10 hits but pushed across only two runs, both batted in by perennial infield candidate Fritzie Brickell. It was Brickell, however, who started the Cards off to their four-run third inning. St. Louis bunched five hits with errors by Brickell and Cletis Boyer to gain all their runs off pitcher Whitey Ford.

AARON HOMERS

Hank Aaron and rookie Mack (the knife) Jones drove in five runs with home runs to lead the Milwaukee Braves to a 10-4 triumph over the Philadelphia Phillies. The Phils got all their runs off the Braves' star veteran hurlers, Warren Spahn and Lew Burdette.

Don Larsen, looking like he's turned over a new leaf, pitched three scoreless innings for the Kansas City Athletics as they downed the Los Angeles Dodgers, 6-3. The A's jumped on Roger Craig for four runs and added the others on solo smashes by Norm Siebern and Haywood Sullivan.

In the Cactus League, Frank Malzone cracked a three-run homer and singled in another run to pace the Boston Red Sox to a 7-3 success over the Chicago Cubs.

Baseball's new additions — The Los Angeles Angels and the Washington Senators—had reasons for joy, scoring decisive victories even though they were over "B" teams.

Bob Johnson got five straight hits, including a home run, and Jim King and Dutch Dotterer hit homers as the Senators downed the Kansas City "B" team, 12-4. Rookie Joe McClain hurled three perfect innings to receive credit for the win.

The Angels ripped the Chicago Cubs "B" squad, 12-5, with Bob Cerv smashing a home run to pace the L. A. 10-hit attack. Ted Bowsfield and Aubrey Gatewood turned in fine mound chores for the Angels.

DRIVER BADLY BURNED AT DRAG CONTEST

Stuckey opened a parachute designed to stop the speeding car and he was pulled from the flaming vehicle. He was treated at Redwood City Hospital for burns on the arms, legs and torso.

Tars Wind Up Fourth In State Tournament

College of Marin picked up another trophy for its glittering showcase Saturday night after finishing fourth in the California Junior College Basketball Championships.

The Tars' great victory over heavily-favored Bakersfield Thursday night was solely responsible for the trophy because they then lost to defending champion San Jose in the semi-finals Friday night and were trounced by Los Angeles City College in Saturday night's battle for third place at Santa Maria.

The lightning fast LACC quint repeatedly stole the ball en route to a 94-64 victory over the fatigued Tars.

Marin jumped off to a 4-0 lead, but LACC soon caught up and the two teams engaged in a close duel for the first 15 minutes. Then the victors caught fire and pulled away to a 47-26 halftime lead and from there it was strictly no contest.

Dale Aman, who was named to the second team All-Tournament squad, led the Tar scoring with 23, followed by Lynn Livie 18, John Blomquist 11, Ernie Bray 4, Ron Blum, Mike Rawitser, Mike Gaffney and E. C. Barnes with 2 each.

The Tars' tournament performances impressed Santa Maria officials who invited Coache Cal Riemcke and his 1961-62 team to the annual Holiday Festival Tournament there next December. "If we can scrape up enough money," Riemcke said today, "we'll go."

The Tars arrived home by bus yesterday at 4:30 p.m.

Ex-Fighter Bobby Scanlon Picks Patterson In Seven

By BOBBY SCANLON

The prize of all fistiana is of course the heavyweight championship of the world. Tonight, almost 400 pounds of fighting humanity will climb through the ropes, and try to crucify one another for this honor.

The principals: Ingemar Johansson, challenger, Floyd Patterson, champion. This is the rubber match and probably the last between these two boxers. Johansson will try to regain his title, but he has a tough, tough task ahead of him.

Floyd Patterson is a very proud person and would hate to give up his title, which has given him the riches he now has and will have. He is a hungry fighter, and remembers too easily the days when he didn't know where his next meal was coming from.

He remembers how his manager, Cus d'Amato, tried and tried to get him matches in New York or anywhere, but nobody would fight him. Patterson was too good a fighter and managers of other boxers stayed clear of him. He fought all the tough boxers, fighters nobody else would box. Floyd beat everyone except ex-light-heavyweight champion Joey Maxim. Maxim, the master boxer stayed 10 rounds, rather ran 10 rounds and won the decision. Most newspaper boxing writers gave the decision to Patterson.

I was in New York at the time boxing four-rounders at St. Nicholas Arena, the famous boxing landmark. I went to the fight and afterwards visited Patterson's dressing room. Floyd was feeling very low, of course. His first loss and it was heartbreaking. D'Amato was fuming, screaming about the decision. Floyd consoled Cus by saying, "Hell, Cus, you can't beat the city hall. One day I'll win the heavyweight championship for you."

He did, and contrary to what you read, Floyd and d'Amato have a warm relationship toward each other. D'Amato schooled Floyd from a skinny 16-year-old to what he is now. Patterson has a wife and three children, plus the fact that he takes care of his mother and the rest of his family. So Johansson had better be in shape.

Ingemar Johansson; let's not forget him. He has been a big boost to boxing. He has the big punch, which could nullify all of Patterson's natural ability. One big punch, that's all it takes, with these big guys. But I am betting he doesn't land it. I am picking Patterson, the hungry fighter, by a knockout inside of seven rounds.

If Johansson loses, maybe he has one consolation. Some movie producer might cast him opposite Marilyn Monroe in a love story.

Canadiens Snare World Ice Hockey Championships

Fo rthe Americans, the championship was a fight to stay away from bottom place in group one. Finally they made it by defeating Finland. That assured them of a spot in the top group in next year's championship in Colorado Springs.

Tommy Bolt Wins At Pensacola; Gary Player 2nd

The Crystal River, Fla., veteran was only a stroke ahead yesterday at the start of the 72-hole tourney's last 18 holes. But he knocked in seven birdies for his best round—a 5-under-par 67—and finished with a 13-under-par 275, good for $2,800.

Gary Player of Johannesburg, South Africa turned in the day's best round, 65, and finished second two strokes behind Bolt for $1,900. He now tops professional golf money winners at $19,904. Dow Finsterwald of Tequesta had a 279 good for $1,400 and third place despite taking a triple bogey on one hole in his 70 round.

Boccabella Paces Santa Clara Win

Sophomore John Boccabella of San Anselmo, third baseman for the University of Santa Clara varsity, collected three hits in three-at-bats and scored three runs yesterday as the Broncos blasted St. Mary's, 19-7.

Aquacade Proceeds Buy Hospital A Gift

Again this year, while performing in the 16th presentation of Ballet Aquacade, swimmers and dancers will have the rewarding knowledge that their efforts will go toward the help of hospitalized youngsters.

The Aquacade, scheduled for June 3 and 4 at the Ann Curtis Swim School, also supports the winter season of professional plays for children, as well as the summer workshops put on by each of the four units of Junior Theatre.

Junior Theater workshops, directed by professional drama personnel, offer one of the rare opportunities for youngsters to put on their own plays, and to learn first-hand about the operation of theatre. Hundreds of Marin County children have had this opportunity through the efforts of Junior Theater and its four local units, Belvedere-Tiburon, Ross-Kentfield-Greenbrae, Fairfax and Sleepy Hollow.

Pistons Gain NBA Playoff

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Jerry West, the Los Angeles Lakers' valuable rookie, proved even more valuable to the Detroit Pistons in the final seven seconds of the National Basketball Association season.

West's basket with only seven seconds left yesterday helped the Lakers to a 123-122 victory over the Cincinnati Royals. The loss eliminated the Royals from the NBA playoffs and gave the berth to the Pistons. The playoffs start tomorrow.

Detroit had clinched at least a tie for the third and last playoff berth in the Western Division a couple of hours earlier when it defeated New York 120-106.

The Eastern Division long ago was sewed up so third-place Syracuse's 136-134 overtime loss to champion Boston didn't mean a thing in the final standings. However, the Nats, which meet Philadelphia tomorrow night in the start of the best-of-five series, still are finding it hard to win and will have to catch fire suddenly to go anywhere in the playoffs.

The Lakers and Pistons start their best-of-five series in Los Angeles tomorrow night with the winner meeting St. Louis in a best-of-seven series. The Hawks, Western Division champs, closed their season against Philadelphia Saturday night with a 130-87 victory. Cincinnati beat the Lakers 108-105 Saturday.

Marin Twin-Bill Postponed–Rain

Nino Geminiani and Dave LeBeck teamed up to pitch a one-hitter and Jerry Ard drove home three runs with a pair of doubles Saturday to give the Drake Pirates a 4-3 victory over Analy High in the second game of a double-header. Analy of Sebastopol won the opener, 4-0.

Geminiani hurled four innings of hitless ball and LeBeck pitched the final three frames, allowing the only hit.

Daytona Beach Car Wins Stock Title

HANFORD (UPI)—Glen Roberts, Daytona Beach, Fla., won the Grand National Stock Car Championship yesterday, touring the 250-mile course in 2 hours, 36 minutes and 22 seconds.

Eddie Gray of Gardena in a 1961 Ford, finished second—two laps behind Roberts. Danny Letner of Downey was third in a 1950 Ford.

ANOTHER INDIAN BITES THE DUST

Basilio Now Aims For NBA Title After Easy Win

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—Carmen Basilio, who got past Don Jordan with "a much easier fight" than he expected, turned his sights today toward Boston and a middleweight title bout with Paul Pender.

Wright Blows Up, But Still Wins At Miami

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Mickey Wright zoomed to a 6-over-par 76 in the final round but still was a walkaway winner of the $7,500 Miami Women's Open Golf Tournament.

She finished the 54-hole event yesterday with a 220—six strokes better than three runners-up. The victory was worth $1,247.

Two Marin Weightlifters Win North Cal AAU Titles

Two Marin County weightlifters won Northern California AAU championships Saturday night in San Francisco and have set their sights on state titles later this month in Los Angeles.

They are Carroll Varner of San Rafael, the present state and Pacific Coast champion in the 165-pound class, and 16-year-old Terry Johnson, a junior at San Rafael High School, the present Pacific Coast titlist in the 132-pound division.

Following the March 25 state meet, Varner and Johnson will go to Portland for the 1961 Pacific Coast Championships in April.

Other Marin lifters competing in San Francisco Saturday night were Mike Bankman, who placed second in the 123-pound division; Jeff Chan, Leon Center and Jim Boulden, all of the MarVel Athletic Club, and Gerry Denman of San Rafael.

The Marin lifters will be seen on television tonight at 6 o'clock. KGO-TV, Channel 7, filmed the competition Saturday for tonight's Headline News program.

ALMANAC

The morning stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

The evening stars are Venus and Mars.

On this day in history:

In 1791, "The Rights of Man" by Thomas Paine was published in London.

In 1933, banks throughout the country began to open following the bank holiday proclaimed March 5 by President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

A thought for today: Thomas Paine said: "Those who expect to reap the blessings of freedom must, like men, undergo the fatigue of supporting it."

Persistent Burglar Calls Once Too Often

Johanson, an unemployed San Francisco sheet metal worker who escaped Saturday from Napa State Hospital, was nabbed by Mill Valley police on Edgewood Avenue early yesterday, seven minutes after Koenig arrived home to see him running out the back door.

Police said Johanson, after his escape from Napa, went to the Koenig home, entered through a kitchen window, ate some chicken, drank some milk and then went to bed in Koenig's bed. He got up and fled in a hurry when Koenig arrived home.

But it wasn't his first visit there, the 25-year-old Johanson told police.

He said he had paid nocturnal calls, uninvited, to the home on Feb. 16, 24 and 27. During those visits, he said, he stole clothes and a transistor radio.

He took nothing on his latest visit, Johanson insisted, except the chicken and milk which he carried away inside him.

By DAVID REED

San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo was the scene of an interesting and unusual concert yesterday afternoon. The Marin Chorale, under direction of Dr. John Milton Kelly, combined talents with soloists Richard Robinson, tenor; Robert Oliver, bass, and harpsichordist Bernice Usdane to present "The Passion According to St. Matthew" by Heinrich Schuetz.

As a prelude to the concert, four keyboard compositions from the 17th Century were brilliantly performed by Mrs. Usdane. The artistry and virtuosity displayed by this Mill Valley resident were warmly applauded by a large and enthusiastic audience.

There are two aspects of the Schuetz "St. Matthew Passion" which make it an interesting and appealing work. One is the composer's intention that the work be performed without accompaniment of any kind. This was an awesome task for the two principal soloists, Robinson as the evangelist and Oliver as Jesus.

The task is doubly difficult because the solos are not songs or arias in the sense of choral works such as "The Messiah." Rather, the solos are all recitative, a sort of neo-Gregorian chant. It is a tribute to the abilities of Robinson and Oliver that they were able to convey considerable dramatic force and local beauty within the rigid limitations of this style of singing.

Other roles in the "Passion," Peter, Judas, Mary and others, were taken by members of the chorale. Of these Roland Standring was impressive and should share honors with the two principals.

Except for the final chorus, the choir in this work sings only short, albeit difficult, fragments. The chorale, in the matters of diction and ensemble was not able to cope with heavy demands of baroque polyphony, although it must be said that the tone quality was at all times warm and firm.

Should School Award Diploma To Hard-Working, Retarded Student?

I don't know Harry. He lives in another state, far away from here but his principal has written to me asking for advice. How should I answer him?

"Harry is 19 years old," his principal says. "He was back several times in elementary school. He is big, strong and man-like. He now is taking 12th grade classes. He is a fine, hard working, conscientious boy. But he is not bright. He simply can't do the work expected of high school seniors. He has not completed the usual requirements for graduation. If we give him a diploma we will be lowering our standards. On the other hand if we deny him one we will break his heart. He has tried very hard. What should we do?"

Harry is typical of many slightly retarded boys and girls. Teachers hold them back as many times as they can without turning them into misfits. The youngsters work hard. Their classmates like them, their teachers respect them and they are good citizens. But they can't do book work.

Some folks say such kids should be kicked out. They maintain that schools should have high standards, grade by grade. Nothing should cause teachers to lower them. You've heard many people say that, haven't you? They'd conclude Harry should not graduate. Do you agree with them or do you think the school should be more humane and let Harry finish with his friends?

Will you write to me promptly? Let me know what you think should happen to Harry and I'll print a report next month. My name is Dr. Richmond Barbour. My address is this paper. Thank you, friends.

READERS' FORUM

(Q)—"What per cent of the children are retarded to the extent that they never can meet the usual standards for high school graduation? — N.S.

(A)—It depends on the standards. Probably between 10 and 15 per cent of the children who start first grade will never be capable of earning a regular high school diploma.

Poll Reveals Brown Losing Popularity

By MERVIN D. FIELD
Director, California Poll

Gov. Edmund G. Brown's tide of popularity which saw him elected in 1958 with a million-vote majority has ebbed considerably in his two years in office and an election today could find him losing his office to former Vice President Richard M. Nixon. Other leading Republican candidates also vie closely with Brown for voter favor.

These figures are the result of a recent California Poll survey of California public opinion conducted during late February. A measurement of public opinion was obtained from a cross-section of Democrats and Republicans in all sections of the state and all walks of life.

A cross-section of California electorate was asked by California Poll interviewers: "Which of these candidates (Brown or Nixon) would you probably vote for if the election were being held today?" The vote shows Nixon leading with a majority over Brown at this time.

If election held today would vote for—	Statewide public
Nixon	51%
Brown	40
Undecided	9

Other leading Republicans, although less strongly favored than Nixon, would run a very close race with Brown if the balloting took place today. Mayor George Christopher of San Francisco, for example, stands neck-and-neck with Brown in voter favor, although a substantial segment of the electorate indicate they have formed no opinion as yet.

If election held today would vote for—	Statewide public
Brown	39%
Christopher	39
Undecided	22

Former Gov. Goodwin Knight is also a strong Republican contender in voter popularity. He also stands virtually tied with Brown in number of votes received in today's popularity measurement.

If election held today would vote for—	Statewide public
Knight	41%
Brown	40
Undecided	19

Brown was elected in 1958 by a landslide majority of 60 per cent over Sen. William F. Knowland. However, about eight months ago, a California Poll survey showed that Knowland had regained some popularity and Brown had slipped back so that the two men were separated by just two percentage points. Today's survey places Brown a little farther ahead of Knowland, although still far from the commanding majority he had at the time of his election.

If election held today would vote for—	Statewide public
Brown	42%
Knowland	37
Undecided	21

Violinist Jacob Krachmalnick of Kentfield will play tomorrow at 8:30 p.m. in a recital at the San Francisco Museum of Art.

His concert tomorrow will be under the joint auspices of the San Francisco Conservatory of Music and San Francisco Museum of Art in Veterans Memorial Auditorium in Civic Center.

One of the few artists who is equally at home in concert and dance music, he was with Glenn Miller for 18 months after completion of his service in the Air Force. From 1951 to 1958 he was concert master of the Philadelphia Symphony Orchestra.

The violinist is married to a well known Marin girl, lyric soprana Corinne Swall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Swall of Kentfield, who will appear this summer as a soloist with Arthur Fiedler in the pops concerts of the San Francisco Symphony.

Tomorrow night Krachmalnick will play a program of sonatas by Schumann, J.S. Bach and Prokofiev and works by Beethoven, Pagnanini and de Sarasate. William Corbett Jones will be his accompanist.

UN Journalist Urges Women To Lead Disarmament Fight

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

Outdoor Art Club members elected a nominating committee for officers, welcomed three new members and heard a talk on "United Nations — Peace in The Making" by Ruth Gage Colby at its home day meeting Thursday afternoon.

New members welcomed by president Mrs. Philip T. Smith and presented with carnation corsages by membership chairman Mrs. Ralph Martindale were Mesdames Robert E. Wickersham, Dixwell Ross and Lewis M. Simes.

Chosen to serve on the nominating committee during the meeting which followed an informal luncheon served by Mrs. Robert Matson and her committee were Mesdames William Pemberton, chairman, R. B. Hartman, Delmar Clinton, Edward Johnson, John V. Buckley. Alternates will be Mesdames Gerhard Becker, Earle Marsh and Mrs. Martindale.

Mrs. Colby, a foreign correspondent covering the United Nations daily, urged all women to call on the U. S. Government to the lead in efforts to establish total, not partial, peace through total disarmament after stopping all atomic weapons testing.

She said, "There is no longer a risk in the choice of going forward into the space age or allowing ourselves to go into certain annihilation."

THE RISK

The risk, she declared, is in not trying to stop the mad arms race because any risk is less than the horror of the certain destruction that will come if it is not stopped.

Statements she quoted from eminent scientists in support of her declaration that the world is facing destruction by man-made fire rather than the supernatural kind prophesied in many religions included:

(1) There is now seven times as much fire power as would be needed to wipe out all life on earth seven times over.

(2) There are the equivalent of 10 tons of TNT for every man, woman and child in the world.

And (3) For every other person in the world there is the equivalent of the bomb dropped on Hiroshima.

Instead of this, she stressed, atomic power could bring a Utopia that would make possible such benefits as elimination of cold weather, poverty and disease, creation of limitless wealth, and complete change in the appearance of the earth and the life of all its peoples.

But the price, she stressed, is total peace.

"There are no channels through which this can come about more fully than through the various agencies of the UN," she explained, and continued with an outline of how they are building the physical bases of peace.

Under these she named (1) the UN's health organization, which is promoting the right to be "born well and wanted" through planned families and helping mothers through dangers of childbirth in clinics.

(2) The UNICEF (concerned with child welfare) and world health organizations, which are working toward improvement in foods and elimination of such diseases as malaria.

(3) The food and agricultural organization, whose "Freedom from Hunger" campaign through distribution of surpluses is bringing food to the starving, especially in famine areas.

(4) The UN's committee working toward a guarantee of the right of all to live through its "Treaty to prevent and punish genocide." Under this treaty, the speaker pointed out, it would be possible to fix blame for wiping out millions of people on individuals instead of whole nations, which are not really punishable.

ITS MEMBERSHIP

What the UN must do, Mrs. Colby stressed, in addition to stopping atomic testing and working for total disarmament, is include all nations in its membership, especially Red China with its 750,000,000 people, and work for true equality of all races, religions, creeds and the sexes.

Women do not have true equality, she said. "They are the patient workers who are carrying the world's burdens. We have every right to honor our sex throughout the world."

The speaker went on to discribe many positive steps in the right direction being taken by UNESCO through its educational, scientific and cultural programs.

"Peace has become the synonym of life itself," she concluded.

Greeting guests at the door were Mesdames B. L. McCormick, Roger Verran and Herbert Marsh, and assisting Mrs. Matson were Mesdames Robert Eddy, Roland Kelly, James Verby and Irving Larson.

View Show To Honor Guide Dogs

Reason for the current excitement over the haute couture of Dior, Monte-Sano, Scarsi and other great fashion names, will be evident on Thursday when their haute couture has its first showing in Marin at the distinctive Ondine in Sausalito.

Elegance will be in the air at "Fashions With a View" with the vistas of the Ondine forming the perfect backdrop for the couturier fashions as one of the nation's most distinquished shops becomes "Your Guide to a Beautiful Spring".

In a fashionable salute to Guide Dogs for the Blind, Inc., Mr. Lawrence Rees, one of Marin's most interesting citizens, will be welcomed as the special guest with a viewpoint. Rees is the training director of Guide Dogs for the Blind, Inc. He has seen hundreds of happy graduates of the famed institution leave the Guide Dog for the Blind campus and make a new life for themselves guided to their own beautiful spring by a new companion, the guide dog.

Promenading the magnificent spring collection of haute couture will be Mrs. Henry Hillebrand, III, Mrs. Walter Meinberger, Mrs. William Donohoe, Mrs. Jack Coddington and Mrs. John Bellamy, Jr.

Reservations for a first look at the New York and Paris fashion delights may be made by calling the Ondine in Sausalito. Luncheon is served at 12:30 with the fashions modeled informally in the intimate Ondine setting.

OUR FAVORITE Guide Dog "Chita" ponders the spring beauty of Mrs. Jack Coddington who will promenade on Thursday at Fashions With a View from the Ondine in the haute couture of a San Francisco shop. Inspiration for Thursday's theme comes from Lawrence Rees, training director of Guide Dogs for the Blind, Inc., who will be welcomed as the special guest with a viewpoint. Aquacade Proceeds Buy Hospital A Gift

Again this year, while performing in the 16th presentation of Ballet Aquacade, swimmers and dancers will have the rewarding knowledge that their efforts will go toward the help of hospitalized youngsters.

The Aquacade, scheduled for June 3 and 4 at the Ann Curtis Swim School, also supports the winter season of professional plays for children, as well as the summer workshops put on by each of the four units of Junior Theatre.

Junior Theater workshops, directed by professional drama personnel, offer one of the rare opportunities for youngsters to put on their own plays, and to learn first-hand about the operation of theatre. Hundreds of Marin County children have had this opportunity through the efforts of Junior Theater and its four local units, Belvedere-Tiburon, Ross-Kentfield-Greenbrae, Fairfax and Sleepy Hollow.

ALMANAC

Today is Monday, March 13, the 72nd day of the year with 293 more in 1961.

The moon is approaching its new quarter.

The morning stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

The evening stars are Venus and Mars.

On this day in history:

In 1733, Joseph Priestly, the English chemist who discovered oxygen, was born.

In 1791, "The Rights of Man" by Thomas Paine was published in London.

In 1933, banks throughout the country began to open following the bank holiday proclaimed March 5 by President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

A thought for today: Thomas Paine said: "Those who expect to reap the blessings of freedom must, like men, undergo the fatigue of supporting it."

Should School Award Diploma To Hard-Working, Retarded Student?

I don't know Harry. He lives in another state, far away from here but his principal has written to me asking for advice. How should I answer him?

"Harry is 19 years old," his principal says. "He was back several times in elementary school. He is big, strong and man-like. He now is taking 12th grade classes. He is a fine, hard working, conscientious boy. But he is not bright. He simply can't do the work expected of high school seniors. He has not completed the usual requirements for graduation. If we give him a diploma we will be lowering our standards. On the other hand if we deny him one we will break his heart. He has tried very hard. What should we do?"

Harry is typical of many slightly retarded boys and girls. Teachers hold them back as many times as they can without turning them into misfits. The youngsters work hard. Their classmates like them, their teachers respect them and they are good citizens. But they can't do book work.

Some folks say such kids should be kicked out. They maintain that schools should have high standards, grade by grade. Nothing should cause teachers to lower them. You've heard many people say that, haven't you? They'd conclude Harry should not graduate. Do you agree with them or do you think the school should be more humane and let Harry finish with his friends?

Will you write to me promptly? Let me know what you think should happen to Harry and I'll print a report next month. My name is Dr. Richmond Barbour. My address is this paper. Thank you, friends.

READERS' FORUM

(Q)—"What per cent of the children are retarded to the extent that they never can meet the usual standards for high school graduation? — N.S.

(A)—It depends on the standards. Probably between 10 and 15 per cent of the children who start first grade will never be capable of earning a regular high school diploma.

San Rafael Sets Marble Tourney

The contests will be held in each playground in the city. They are open to both boys and girls. Each participant must have his own shooter and sufficient marbles to play a game.

Rangers is the official tournament game. Certificates will be awarded to the winner in various age groups. For more information, call the San Rafael Recreation Department.

Children's Shop Asks Incorporation

Directors of the company were listed as John R. Linka, 2747 Burlingview Drive, Burlingame, William Austin Trewhella, 84 Elm Avenue, and Jeanne Prigmore, 52 Berkeley, San Anselmo.

'Plant-Up Day' To Be Explained

The Tiburon Peninsula Chamber of Commerce at its meeting tomorrow noon at Tommy's Pier 41 restaurant will hear Mrs. Palmer Field explain plans for the community's "Plant-Up Day" on March 25.

Mrs. Field will demonstrate the need for a cleanup and planting of the Northwestern Pacific Railroad property fronting Mar West Street.

A review of the Waterfront Preservation Fund, established to purchase a strip of Tiburon's commercial waterfront for use as a public park, will also be given by Mrs. Field, said chamber president William S. Johnstone.

Awards To Be Given For Reports On Greece

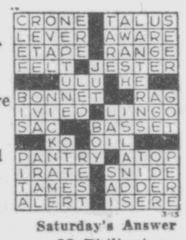

Members of the Reed School seventh grade class taught by Mrs. William Story will receive awards for reports on Greece in classroom ceremonies at 10:45 a.m. tomorrow.

Poll Reveals Brown Losing Popularity

By MERVIN D. FIELD
Director, California Poll

Gov. Edmund G. Brown's tide of popularity which saw him elected in 1958 with a million-vote majority has ebbed considerably in his two years in office and an election today could find him losing his office to former Vice President Richard M. Nixon. Other leading Republican candidates also vie closely with Brown for voter favor.

These figures are the result of a recent California Poll survey of California public opinion conducted during late February. A measurement of public opinion was obtained from a cross-section of Democrats and Republicans in all sections of the state and all walks of life.

A cross-section of California electorate was asked by California Poll interviewers: "Which of these candidates (Brown or Nixon) would you probably vote for if the election were being held today?" The vote shows Nixon leading with a majority over Brown at this time.

If election held today would vote for—	Statewide public
Nixon	51%
Brown	40
Undecided	9

Other leading Republicans, although less strongly favored than Nixon, would run a very close race with Brown if the balloting took place today. Mayor George Christopher of San Francisco, for example, stands neck-and-neck with Brown in voter favor, although a substantial segment of the electorate indicate they have formed no opinion as yet.

If election held today would vote for—	Statewide public
Brown	39%
Christopher	39
Undecided	22

Former Gov. Goodwin Knight is also a strong Republican contender in voter popularity. He also stands virtually tied with Brown in number of votes received in today's popularity measurement.

If election held today would vote for—	Statewide public
Knight	41%
Brown	40
Undecided	19

Brown was elected in 1958 by a landslide majority of 60 per cent over Sen. William F. Knowland. However, about eight months ago, a California Poll survey showed that Knowland had regained some popularity and Brown had slipped back so that the two men were separated by just two percentage points. Today's survey places Brown a little farther ahead of Knowland, although still far from the commanding majority he had at the time of his election.

If election held today would vote for—	Statewide public
Brown	42%
Knowland	37
Undecided	21

Salary Schedules On Reed Agenda

Reed Union School District trustees will discuss teacher salary schedules for the 1961-1962 school year at their meeting tomorrow at 8 p.m. in the Reed School auditorium.

Plywood Firm Offered For Sale

All assets of the Industrial Plywood Corp. of Willits, Mendocino County, including a modern office building at 2144 Fourth Street, San Rafael, will be offered for sale at public auction March 28 in Willits.

Jack Fairhurst of San Rafael, vice president and general manager, announced the sale today. The reason, he said, is that the owners have decided to devote their time to other interests.

Three other parcels belonging to the corporation—at Willits, Eureka and Laytonville—also will be sold at the auction.

Marin Violinist Plays In S.F. Tomorrow

Violinist Jacob Krachmalnick of Kentfield will play tomorrow at 8:30 p.m. in a recital at the San Francisco Museum of Art.

Krachmalnick also will be seen on "Omnibus" in a March 26 television show.

His concert tomorrow will be under the joint auspices of the San Francisco Conservatory of Music and San Francisco Museum of Art in Veterans Memorial Auditorium in Civic Center.

One of the few artists who is equally at home in concert and dance music, he was with Glenn Miller for 18 months after completion of his service in the Air Force. From 1951 to 1958 he was concert master of the Philadelphia Symphony Orchestra.

He arrived home in Kentfield last Tuesday after a series of engagements in New York which followed two years as concertmaster with the Concertgebow Orchestra in Amsterdam, Holland.

The violinist is married to a well known Marin girl, lyric soprana Corinne Swall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Swall of Kentfield, who will appear this summer as a soloist with Arthur Fiedler in the pops concerts of the San Francisco Symphony.

The couple has a 2-year-old daughter, Janice.

Tomorrow night Krachmalnick will play a program of sonatas by Schumann, J.S. Bach and Prokofiev and works by Beethoven, Pagnanini and de Sarasate. William Corbett Jones will be his accompanist.

Tickets may be obtained in advance at the San Francisco Conservatory of Music or on the night of the recital at the door.

Kick By Horse Injures Girl, 12

Twelve-year-old Robin Yarish was reported in good condition today at Novato Hospital after being kicked in the face by a horse near her home at 1285 Yukon Way.

Robin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jeter P. Yarish, was with her friend, Beverly Jonas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Jonas of 1705 Indian Valley Road, when the horse, belonging to Beverly, kicked her on the nose and upper lip. She was treated for cuts and was to remain in the hospital for a day or two.

Gallinas Bids Asked For Bond Redemption

The Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District board Thursday authorized the call for bids to pay off the $65,000 general obligation bond for the purchase of the Terra Linda treatment plant. The bids will be opened at the next meeting, April 13.

The treatment plant, built by Alliance Construction Co. of San Rafael in 1954, was purchased two years ago by the district.

Lawyer Series Starts Tomorrow In San Rafael

Marin lawyers will meet in San Rafael tomorrow for the first of a series of four weekly lectures on "Pleading California Actions." The lecture begins at 7:30 p.m. in Department 2 at Superior Court in the County Courthouse.

The aim of the series is to help lawyers avoid mistakes made in pleading action and thus avoid unnecessary court appearances, unnecessary research, redrafting, retyping and refiling of the faulty pleading and other costly and time-consuming measures.

The talks are presented here by the State Bar of California's committee on continuing education of the bar, through facilities of University of California Extension and in cooperation with the Marin County Bar Assn. in charge of local arrangements.

Speaker Slated On Insecticides

The meeting is set for 7:45 p.m. in Room 37 of College of Marin in Kentfield.

Violinist Stern To Speak At School

Isaac Stern, renowned American violinist, will speak informally to the students at Dominican College tomorrow at 3 p.m. in the lounge of Pennafort Hall.

Plans for a high school speech contest were announced today by Mrs. Regina Waldon of San Anselmo, chairman of the health education committee of the Marin Tuberculosis and Health Assn.

The contest, sponsored for the second year by the local Christmas Seal organization, is open to all high school students in the county. "Those Wonderful Windbags—Our Lungs" is the topic for this year's contest," announced Mrs. Waldon.

Chairmen at the schools are: Mrs. Lewis Carleson of Novato, Novato High School; Mrs. Eugene F. Kern Jr. of San Rafael, San Rafael High School; Mrs. William Hoxie of Ross, Redwood High School; Mrs. Sidney Leeb of San Anselmo, Sir Francis Drake and Tamalpais High Schools; Mrs. Genny Berry of San Rafael, Tomales High School, and Mrs. Waldon, Terra Linda and Marin Catholic High Schools.

Art Display Slated

A display of paintings, sculpture and ceramics by Vera Borzy of 27 Laurel Avenue, San Anselmo, will open at the Dutch Art Gallery at 811 B Street, San Rafael, with a Friday preview from 8 to 11 p.m. and showings to the public from Saturday through April 4. Hindu Dancer To Perform Here Thursday

The intricate art of classical Hindu dance will be performed by Shivaram, Hindu temple dancer, on the first of the "Spring Series" programs to be presented at Marin Country Day School on Paradise Drive at Corte Madera Thursday at 8 p.m.

Shivaram was born in the village of Ezhikara in Kerala State, South India. The son of a temple dancer, he began the 12-year apprenticeship required of all Kathakali temple dancers at the age of 6.

The young dancers put in a 14-hour day learning the 700 symbolic gestures of the dance with special facial expressions, the complicated "drum language," the meaning of Sanskrit dance dramas and the roles of all the characters in all the dramas.

Shivaram later became a star of Kerala's Kalamandalam Troupe. Gradually he adapted the ancient art of the Hindu dance to the theater. In this he was assisted by his Australian pupil, Louise Lightfoot, who will appear as narrator on Thursday's program.

Shivaram now lives in San Francisco where he is an instructor at the American Academy of Asian Studies.

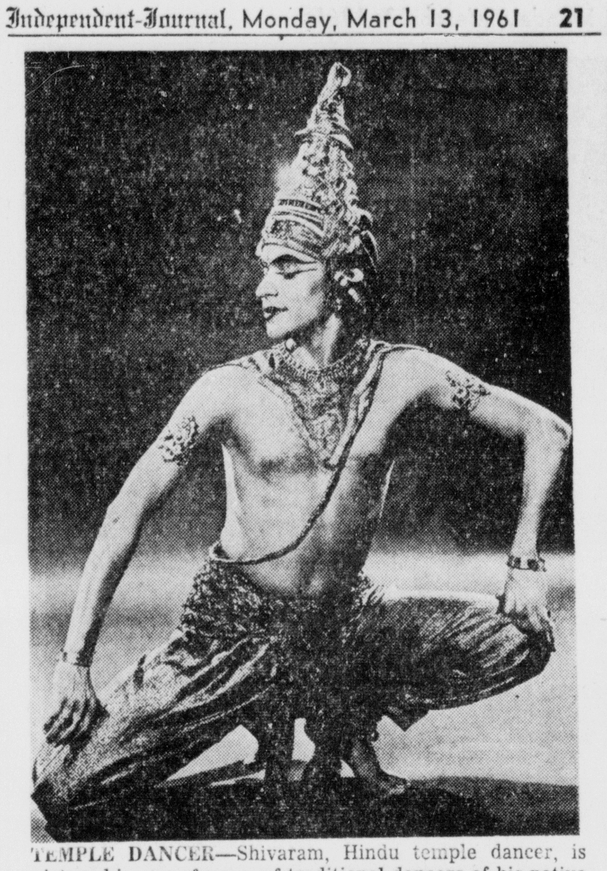

The "Spring Series" is presented by the Parents' Group of Marin Country Day School as the first in its community service projects.

The second in the series will be given at Marin Country Day School April 5. Dr. Hilda Taba of the faculty of San Francisco State College will discuss "The Fourth R in Education."

The series will conclude April 20 with semanticist S. I. Hayakawa, whose topic will be "Are you Communicating?"

Reservations may be made with Mrs. Leonard Micon, Mill Valley, or Mrs. Stephen Heller, San Rafael.

Kindergarten Signup Slated In Mill Valley

Parents who have not yet enrolled children in kindergarten for the fall semester in the Mill Valley School District are urged to do so, Supt. G. Robert McConnell said today.

Children should be enrolled at the school nearest their home. Minimum entrance age is 4 years, 9 months as of Sept. 1. Record of birth must be presented, but children need not accompany their parents.

In Training Test

Camillo M (Benny) Mello, formerly of Woodacre and San Rafael, recently participated with other personnel of the 37th Artillery in "Exercise Willow Freeze," the Army cold-weather training program about 150 miles from Anchorage, Alaska.

"Your Grandchildren Will Grow Up Under Communism"

says NIKITA KHRUSHCHEV

This can happen . . . only if we fail to give our children the courage to remain free. We know that in one generation communism has strangled half the world. What will happen in future generations? It's up to us.

We, the American people can still speak out for what we believe in. It is our heritage and our responsibility. We can help RADIO FREE EUROPE broadcast Free World Truth to 79 million people behind the Iron Curtain.

RADIO FREE EUROPE broadcasts from 28 transmitters manned by excapees from communism. It reaches over 90% of the people despite communist jamming. But RFE needs money to do its job, to become even more effective.

RADIO FREE EUROPE is privately supported by millions of Americans who believe the time to speak out for freedom is now!

Nazarene Congregation Hears Christian Theme

The congregation at the Church of the Nazarene in San Anselmo was told in the morning sermon by Pastor Harold Bonner yesterday that Christian living "is the overflow of a singular purpose."

Rev. Bonner began his message with a quote from a sermon by the late Peter Marshall former Presbyterian minister and Chaplain of the United Senate.

Said Pastor Bonner:

"It was the late Peter Marshall who observed that too many professing Christians were enough concerned with the Gospel not to enjoy their sin, and at the same time too devoted to their sins to enjoy the Gospel. His observation at is so true. For when we pursue goals that are contradictory the result is only much anxiety and little joy, much frustration and little progress.

"To our unsatisfied and unsatisfying lives the words of Jesus come as the diagnosis of a skilled physician, 'No man can serve two masters; for either he will hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to the one, and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and mammon.' (Matthew 6:24)

"Jesus lays claim to the total obedience of every life that would follow Him. To walk with Christ means the restating of every other priority of life, and the discarding of a multitude of possible human pursuits.

"Life stamps its approval upon this exclusive demand of Jesus. Mixed motives bring us not the happiness and fulfillment that we seek. We prove to ourselves, if we have the courage to admit it, the futility of trying to serve God and mammon; the Master and money; godliness and gluttony; the Saviour and self; the Life and lust. One must cancel out the other.

"We need to see that holiness of life—true Christian living, is the overflow of a singular purpose. And that purpose is Christ. The "pure in heart" shall see God, not only because of the rightness of their mind, but also because of the singularness of their life-motive. It is only as we, by God's grace, dethrone conflicting motives in life that we can truly crown Christ as both Savious and Lord.

"How thankful we are that the salvation of Jesus Christ is freely given to all who meet His conditions of repentance, confession and faith. But justification must also soon lead us to the place of full and complete consecration where idol-thrones are broken down that Christ may reign and rule alone.

"Anything less than this is mockery to God, and misery for ourselves."

San Rafael Plans School For Summer

A summer elementary school program offering 22 remedial, "enrichment," "opportunity" and physical education courses will begin in San Rafael city schools June 26 and continue through July 21.

Both Davidson and Santa Venetia Junior High Schools will be used if enrollment is sufficiently large. Students now in grades 4-7 are eligible to attend, and are expected to enroll in four courses, unless permission is granted to take fewer. All students must enroll in physical education, unless excused for health reasons.

To Be Honored

A. J. Ackley of 112 I Street, San Rafael, will be honored for 40 years of service with the Tidewater Oil Co. at the firm's annual diamond service emblem dinner Thursday in San Francisco. He will receive a diamond service pin.

TAX FACTS

Some Levies Deductible; Here's List

By PETER J. WIKEL, CPA

Taxes, generally, to be deductible, must be imposed on you, and you must have paid them. Common types of deductible taxes are state and city sales taxes, state income taxes, personal property tax, real estate tax, automobile license fees, unemployment insurance contributions in some states, state capitation or poll taxes and state gasoline tax.

Peter J. Wikel

The code specifically states you cannot deduct the following types of taxes. Federal income taxes, federal excise taxes, (such as telephone, telegraph, cosmetics, furs, jewelry, luggage, theatre and amusement taxes, transportation taxes, etc.), federal stamp taxes, estate and gift taxes and taxes assessed for local improvements which tend to increase the value of your property.

Airline Work Training Center Taking Signups For New Classes

Warren Vincent of Kentfield, general manager of the Airline Personnel Center in San Francisco, says his firm is taking enrollments for March classes in basic airline traffic and sales courses.

New route approvals given to airlines have made the demand for trained personnel greater in all phases of the industry.

The Airline Personnel Center, which was recently approved by the Board of Education, undertakes to meet this demand by screening, testing and instructing young men and women from 19 to 35 years of age who are interested in making a career in the field. Instruction in the 180-hour basic courses cover all knowledge necessary for employment in a variety of airline jobs, such as ticket agents, reservation agents, travel agency positions and others.

Both day and night classes are offered. Day sections meet six hours per day, five days a week for six and one-half weeks. Night classes are spread out longer — two nights a week and six hours on Saturday over a 15-week period.

Advanced and specialized training divisions enter the fields of management, steamship, railway and foreign travel and even into ground school for pilots.

Vincent reports the regular school faculty is augmented by major airline executives who instruct portions of the training program and make their companies' facilities available for field trips and inspections.

The Airline Personnel Center has operated for more than two years and has placed many students, he says. Among those from Marin County who have recently completed training are Margaret Curry of San Rafael, now with Geronimo Travel Service, San Francisco; Janet Kelly of San Anselmo, with Travel Service, Inc. Berkeley, and Mrs. Diane McIvvy (formerly Diane Hilton of Mill Valley) with TWA.

ONLY OUTSIDE moving firm reported to have entered this area since last December (with the exception of Bekins Van and Storage that had already begun construction of its San Rafael warehouse) in order to take advantage of Hamilton Field's recent policy of awarding moving jobs exclusively to Marin and Sonoma movers is Watz Moving and Storage, 874 Sweetser Avenue, Novato.

The firm is a branch of a 50-year-old Oakland organization and is managed here by Frank Pruitt, who lives at 876 Sweetser Avenue. Watz is an agent for Andrews Van Lines, Norfolk, Va.

A STUDY of 18,000 industrial accidents in California has shown that 70 per cent of them were caused by inadequate supervision.

In Marin County, a committee of local and industrial leaders have planned a special program to help reduce on-the-job accidents in plants, warehouses and locations where they are most likely to occur. The program will begin next Monday at Carpenters Hall, 647 Lindaro Street, San Rafael, with a meeting primarily for people in industry who direct and control the work of others—the key men in accident prevention.

The meeting will start at 7:30 p.m. and feature a talk by Robert Evenden, safety manager for Guy F. Atkinson Co., who will demonstrate how he trains his supervisors in safety techniques. A movie, "Knowing Is Not Enough," will be shown.

Hindu Dancer To Perform Here Thursday

The intricate art of classical Hindu dance will be performed by Shivaram, Hindu temple dancer, on the first of the "Spring Series" programs to be presented at Marin Country Day School on Paradise Drive at Corte Madera Thursday at 8 p.m.

Shivaram was born in the village of Ezhikara in Kerala State, South India. The son of a temple dancer, he began the 12-year apprenticeship required of all Kathakali temple dancers at the age of 6.

The young dancers put in a 14-hour day learning the 700 symbolic gestures of the dance with special facial expressions, the complicated "drum language," the meaning of Sanskrit dance dramas and the roles of all the characters in all the dramas.

Shivaram later became a star of Kerala's Kalamandalam Troupe. Gradually he adapted the ancient art of the Hindu dance to the theater. In this he was assisted by his Australian pupil, Louise Lightfoot, who will appear as narrator on Thursday's program.

Shivaram now lives in San Francisco where he is an instructor at the American Academy of Asian Studies.

The "Spring Series" is presented by the Parents' Group of Marin Country Day School as the first in its community service projects.

The second in the series will be given at Marin Country Day School April 5. Dr. Hilda Taba of the faculty of San Francisco State College will discuss "The Fourth R in Education."

The series will conclude April 20 with semanticist S. I. Hayakawa, whose topic will be "Are you Communicating?"

Reservations may be made with Mrs. Leonard Micon, Mill Valley, or Mrs. Stephen Heller, San Rafael.

Proceeds from the "Spring Series" will be put in the school's scholarship fund.

Nazarene Congregation Hears Christian Theme

The congregation at the Church of the Nazarene in San Anselmo was told in the morning sermon by Pastor Harold Bonner yesterday that Christian living "is the overflow of a singular purpose."

Rev. Bonner began his message with a quote from a sermon by the late Peter Marshall former Presbyterian minister and Chaplain of the United Senate.

Said Pastor Bonner:

"It was the late Peter Marshall who observed that too many professing Christians were enough concerned with the Gospel not to enjoy their sin, and at the same time too devoted to their sins to enjoy the Gospel. His observation at is so true. For when we pursue goals that are contradictory the result is only much anxiety and little joy, much frustration and little progress.

"To our unsatisfied and unsatisfying lives the words of Jesus come as the diagnosis of a skilled physician, 'No man can serve two masters; for either he will hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to the one, and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and mammon.' (Matthew 6:24)

"Jesus lays claim to the total obedience of every life that would follow Him. To walk with Christ means the restating of every other priority of life, and the discarding of a multitude of possible human pursuits.

"Life stamps its approval upon this exclusive demand of Jesus. Mixed motives bring us not the happiness and fulfillment that we seek. We prove to ourselves, if we have the courage to admit it, the futility of trying to serve God and mammon; the Master and money; godliness and gluttony; the Saviour and self; the Life and lust. One must cancel out the other.

"We need to see that holiness of life—true Christian living, is the overflow of a singular purpose. And that purpose is Christ. The "pure in heart" shall see God, not only because of the rightness of their mind, but also because of the singularness of their life-motive. It is only as we, by God's grace, dethrone conflicting motives in life that we can truly crown Christ as both Savious and Lord.

"How thankful we are that the salvation of Jesus Christ is freely given to all who meet His conditions of repentance, confession and faith. But justification must also soon lead us to the place of full and complete consecration where idolthrones are broken down that Christ may reign and rule alone.

"Anything less than this is mockery to God, and misery for ourselves."

San Rafael Plans School For Summer

A summer elementary school program offering 22 remedial, "enrichment," "opportunity" and physical education courses will begin in San Rafael city schools June 26 and continue through July 21.

Both Davidson and Santa Venetia Junior High Schools will be used if enrollment is sufficiently large. Students now in grades 4-7 are eligible to attend, and are expected to enroll in four courses, unless permission is granted to take fewer. All students must enroll in physical education, unless excused for health reasons.

The proposed program of courses is as follows:

Remedial — review composition, remedial reading, review arithmetic; "enrichment" — English, oral English, developmental reading, social studies, French, Spanish, exploratory language, mathematics, science.

Some Levies Deductible; Here's List

By PETER J. WIKEL, CPA

Taxes, generally, to be deductible, must be imposed on you, and you must have paid them. Common types of deductible taxes are state and city sales taxes, state income taxes, personal property tax, real estate tax, automobile license fees, unemployment insurance contributions in some states, state capitation or poll taxes and state gasoline tax.

Peter J. Wikel

You can deduct your state gasoline tax on every gallon of gasoline you purchase, but not federal gasoline tax.

The code specifically states you cannot deduct the following types of taxes. Federal income taxes, federal excise taxes, (such as telephone, telegraph, cosmetics, furs, jewelry, luggage, theatre and amusement taxes, transportation taxes, etc.), federal stamp taxes, estate and gift taxes and taxes assessed for local improvements which tend to increase the value of your property.

Federal social security taxes, hunting and fishing licenses, and dog licenses are not deductible.

To Be Honored

A. J. Ackley of 112 I Street, San Rafael, will be honored for 40 years of service with the Tidewater Oil Co. at the firm's annual diamond service emblem dinner Thursday in San Francisco. He will receive a diamond service pin.

Journalism Students Can Join Contest

Journalism students in Marin and other Northern California high schools will compete for $1,050 in journalism scholarship awards in the 16th annual contest sponsored by the Press and Union League Club of San Francisco.

The competition closes April 14, and awards will be made May 6 at a Press Club luncheon for students and their journalism teachers. Awards, in the form of college tuition scholarships, are made for news, feature and sportswriting.

Airline Work Training Center Taking Signups For New Classes

Warren Vincent of Kentfield, general manager of the Airline Personnel Center in San Francisco, says his firm is taking enrollments for March classes in basic airline traffic and sales courses.

New route approvals given to airlines have made the demand for trained personnel greater in all phases of the industry.

The Airline Personnel Center, which was recently approved by the Board of Education, undertakes to meet this demand by screening, testing and instructing young men and women from 19 to 35 years of age who are interested in making a career in the field. Instruction in the 180-hour basic courses cover all knowledge necessary for employment in a variety of airline jobs, such as ticket agents, reservation agents, travel agency positions and others.

Both day and night classes are offered. Day sections meet six hours per day, five days a week for six and one-half weeks. Night classes are spread out longer — two nights a week and six hours on Saturday over a 15-week period.

Advanced and specialized training divisions enter the fields of management, steamship, railway and foreign travel and even into ground school for pilots.

Vincent reports the regular school faculty is augmented by major airline executives who instruct portions of the training program and make their companies' facilities available for field trips and inspections.

The Airline Personnel Center has operated for more than two years and has placed many students, he says. Among those from Marin County who have recently completed training are Margaret Curry of San Rafael, now with Geronimo Travel Service, San Francisco; Janet Kelly of San Anselmo, with Travel Service, Inc. Berkeley, and Mrs. Diane McIvvy (formerly Diane Hilton of Mill Valley) with TWA.

ONLY OUTSIDE moving firm reported to have entered this area since last December (with the exception of Bekins Van and Storage that had already begun construction of its San Rafael warehouse) in order to take advantage of Hamilton Field's recent policy of awarding moving jobs exclusively to Marin and Sonoma movers is Watz Moving and Storage, 874 Sweetser Avenue, Novato.

The firm is a branch of a 50-year-old Oakland organization and is managed here by Frank Pruitt, who lives at 876 Sweetser Avenue. Watz is an agent for Andrews Van Lines, Norfolk, Va.

A STUDY of 18,000 industrial accidents in California has shown that 70 per cent of them were caused by inadequate supervision.

In Marin County, a committee of local and industrial leaders have planned a special program to help reduce on-the-job accidents in plants, warehouses and locations where they are most likely to occur. The program will begin next Monday at Carpenters Hall, 647 Lindaro Street, San Rafael, with a meeting primarily for people in industry who direct and control the work of others—the key men in accident prevention.

The meeting will start at 7:30 p.m. and feature a talk by Robert Evenden, safety manager for Guy F. Atkinson Co., who will demonstrate how he trains his supervisors in safety techniques. A movie, "Knowing Is Not Enough," will be shown.

Californians switched on some "new" electricity in their homes in 1957—electricity made in an atomic power plant built by PG&E and General Electric at Vallecitos. This was America's first AEC-licensed nuclear generating station. Now, near Eureka, PG&E is building another and much larger atomic power plant. An advanced design, it is expected ultimately to produce electricity as cheaply as conventional plants in the same region. This $21 million project is one more step in PG&E's continuing program to build ahead for a state on-the-grow. PACIFIC GAS AND ELECTRIC COMPANY
